Tickets Now Available for 2016 Schmeckfest

FREEMAN — Orders are being accepted for tickets for the 58th annual Schmeckfest to be held in Freeman April 15, 16, 22, 23, 2016. This is the latest in spring in the history of the festival; the dates were set because of the early dates of Easter in 2016 and Freeman Academy's annual participation in a national choral festival in early April.

The popular festival, which began in 1959 with an ethnic German meal, has grown to a multifaceted festival now held on two consecutive weekends. A full three-course meal featuring the traditional foods of the Freeman community is served family style to 1,000 guests each night. Tickets for the meal are sold advance order only.

Tickets are also on sale for reserved seats for the 2016 Schmeckfest musical production "The Music Man." It will be presented each night of Schmeckfest with an 8 p.m. curtain at Pioneer Hall. The decision to stage Meredith Willson's popular, family-friendly "The Music Man" reflects the fact that 2016 marks the 50th stage production in Schmeckfest history. "The Music Man" has been staged twice as the Schmeckfest musical — in both 1979 and in 1996.

The first full-stage musical production was "The Red Mill" presented by students of Freeman Junior College and members of the Freeman community. In the years immediately following, a variety of productions took the stage and, in 1970, the production of "The Mikado" initiated the annual tradition of a full-stage musical that has continued ever since.

The Schmeckfest stage has offered 35 different musicals with several of them, like "The Music Man," presented up to three times over the years.

Tickets for the meal and reserved seats for the musical are available by writing Schmeckfest, Box S, Freeman, SD 57029 or online at schmeckfest.com where credit card orders can be placed directly or an order form can be printed and mailed.

Next year also marks a significant change in the seating for the musical. For the first time in history, all seats will be on the main floor of Pioneer Hall. In the interest of safety and convenience, most bleacher seating will been eliminated. General admission seats will still be available, but will be at the rear of the auditorium. A chart showing the new seating arrangement can be found online at schmeckfest.com.

The festival also includes demonstrations of culinary arts, which are held at Sterling Hall on the Freeman Academy campus. The Country Kitchen bake sale and foods for sampling will also be located in Sterling Hall, which is handicap accessible and is located northeast of Pioneer Hall.

The Freeman Academy Auxiliary, which sponsors Schmeckfest, will again provide free admission to the Heritage Hall Museum complex which houses thousands of items from the history of pioneer settlers and early life in South Dakota. Demonstrations of early pioneer activities can be found throughout the museum during Schmeckfest.

As in past years, the festival also includes free historical and musical presentations.

Schmeckfest is utilizing social media as a way for its guests to interact with the festival and each other. Comments and photos can be shared on Facebook (facebook.com/Schmeckfest), Twitter and Instagram using the hashtag #schmeckfest2016.

A random drawing is held Dec. 1 to process all ticket orders received prior to that date. Ticket orders received after Dec. 1 are processed daily with first-choice preference given when available. All mail orders for tickets should include a check and a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Schmeckfest — a "tasting festival" — was started in 1959 as a one-time, one-day event by the Freeman Academy and Junior College Women's Auxiliary to celebrate its 10th anniversary. It featured the favorite dishes of the Mennonite people who immigrated to the area from Russia in the 1870s. That first Schmeckfest proved to be so popular that it was repeated the following year ... and the year after and it quickly became an annual affair. It soon expanded to two days, then to three days and now two weekends. The event has become known nationally for its celebration of tradition and culture and is held annually in late March or early April.

Proceeds from Schmeckfest go to benefit Freeman Academy, a Christian, coeducational school for grades 1-12. It is affiliated with Mennonite churches in the area and was established in 1900.

"The main message is to embrace the real reason behind Christmas and the innocence of children at that time," Vavra said.

The play runs from Dec. 3-6 and 10-13. For tickets, go to the Lewis & Clark Theatre Company Facebook page, visit www.lewisandclarktheatre.org, the box office located at 328 Walnut Street, Yankton or call 605665-4711. Box office hours are Monday-Friday from 10 a.m.-2 p.m.

RTEC Sets Dates for Classes!

Holiday Wreaths "Just for Fun" Class:
Holiday Wreaths, a new and exciting class being instructed by crafting enthusiast Marybeth Herrboldt, will be held from 5:30 – 7:30 p.m. on Monday, Nov. 30, 2015. You'll learn how to turn an ordinary wire clothes hanger, some ribbon and a few ornaments into a charming holiday wreath. Simply bring the hanger and RTEC will supply the rest of the materials. Cost is $26.50. To reserve your spot, please call RTEC at (605) 668-5700 or send a quick email to contactrtec@gmail.com.

Knitting Without Needles "Just for Fun" Class:
Knitting Without Needles, one of RTEC's most popular "Just for Fun" classes, will be held from 5:30 – 7:30 p.m. on Thursday, Dec. 3, 2015. During the two-hour class, which is also instructed by MaryBeth Herrboldt, you'll learn how to knit without needles by using your arms to fashion a beautiful infinity scarf. Cost is $21.20. Participants are asked to bring a scissors and two skeins of yarn – either #5 chunky or #6 extra chunky in the color or colors of your choice. Register by calling RTEC at (605) 668-5700. If the offices are closed for the holiday, please email contactrtec@gmail.com.

Friday CTE Academy - Computer Aided Drafting (CAD):
Students enrolled in grades 11 & 12 at Avon, Bon Homme, Gayville-Volin and Irene-Wakonda school districts for the Spring 2016 semester are invited to participate in the Friday Career and Technical Education (CTE) Academy CAD Solidworks class. It will be held on Fridays at RTEC from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Completers receive high school credit and may be eligible for credit from Mitchell Technical Institute, if approved. Check with your school counselor and contact RTEC for complete details!

Friday CTE Academy - Welding:
Students enrolled in grades 11 & 12 at Avon, Bon Homme, Gayville-Volin and Irene-Wakonda school districts for the Spring 2016 semester are invited to participate in this Friday Career and Technical Education (CTE) Academy Welding class.
