AREA DIGEST

Gym Rat Basketball Camp June 2-3

Girls and boys in grades 1-8 can attend the Gym Rat Basketball Camp, to be held June 2-3 at the Yankton Middle School north gym.

The grade 1-4 camp will be held from 8-9:30 a.m., with the grade 5-8 session from 9:30-11 a.m.

The camps will be led by the instruction of Yankton High School girls' basketball coach Doug Pesicka, as well as other staff members.

All campers must submit their registration by Sunday, May 30.

For more information, contact Pesicka at 665-2019.

Badgers Take Two From USD Softball

MADISON, Wis. — The University of Wisconsin recorded a sweep of the University of South Dakota softball team on Wednesday, winning by scores of 5-1 and 10-2.

The Coyotes stayed within striking distance of their foes from the Big Ten, including bringing the tying run to the plate in the top of the sixth in game one.

In the opener, Alexa Rudeen led USD at the plate, going 2-for-3 with a homer and an RBI. Lussman and Johnson also had hits.

In game two, Michelle Jones finished 2-for-3 with a run scored for USD, while Johnson and senior Jasey Goedeken had the other hits for USD.

USD continues play on the road on Saturday when it plays at North Dakota. The nonconference doubleheader begins at noon in Grand Forks, N.D.

New USF Football Coach Fills Out Staff

SIOUX FALLS (AP) — New Sioux Falls head football coach Jed Stugart has filled out his staff.

Athletics Director Willie Sanchez on Wednesday announced the hiring of two assistant coaches.

Robert Tucker will coach special teams and defensive backs. He comes from the University of Colorado, where he was director of football operations.

Casey Meile will coach the offensive line. Meile was out of college coaching last year but has coached in the past at several schools, including NCAA Division II powerhouse Northwest Missouri State.

Stugart earlier this year took the reigns from the departed Kalen DeBoer, who led the Cougars to three NAIA titles in four years. Stugart retained coaches Jon Anderson as defensive coordinator and Ryan Grubb as offensive coordinator.

NATIONAL DIGEST

Roethlisberger Banned Six Games

NEW YORK (AP) — The NFL cracked down on one of its stars Wednesday, suspending Pittsburgh Steelers quarterback Ben Roethlisberger for not just a few games but the first six of the season, even though he avoided sexual assault charges in Georgia.

The two-time Super Bowl winner was banned without pay for violating the NFL's personal conduct policy and was ordered to undergo a "comprehensive behavioral evaluation by professionals."

NFL commissioner Roger Goodell handed down the punishment a week after prosecutors decided not to charge Roethlisberger in a case involving a 20-year-old college student who accused him of sexually assaulting her in a Milledgeville, Ga., nightclub last month.

"I recognize that the allegations in Georgia were disputed and that they did not result in criminal charges being filed against you," Goodell said in his letter to the six-year veteran.

"My decision today is not based on a finding that you violated Georgia law, or on a conclusion that differs from that of the local prosecutor. That said, you are held to a higher standard as an NFL player, and there is nothing about your conduct in Milledgeville that can remotely be described as admirable, responsible, or consistent with either the values of the league or the expectations of our fans."

NBA Playoffs: Magic Take 2-0 Lead

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — Vince Carter finished with 19 points, Dwight Howard scored 15 and the Orlando Magic took a 2-0 series lead with a 92-77 victory over the Charlotte Bobcats on Wednesday night.

The Magic's star duo was less than stellar, but took over when it counted most. They combined for 21 second-half points to help Orlando build a 20-point lead and hold on late.

Stephen Jackson showed no effects from his hyperextended left knee to score 27 points, and Gerald Wallace had 15 points for the Bobcats. But their 21 turnovers are a big reason why they're heading home still searching for the franchise's first playoff win.

Game 3 in the best-of-seven series is Saturday in Charlotte.

back each time."

The Lancers' win did come with a bit of controversy.

Mount Marty had runners on first and second with two out in the bottom of the ninth and were down 6-5 when Amanda Soehl hit a soft ground ball to the second baseman, who tried to tag out Emily Girard, but missed.

She then threw over to second, but Girard was called safe at second and allowed Andrea Hansen, who was originally at second, to score and tie the game at 6-6, which didn't sit right with Saint Mary head coach Chuck Brewer.

"The umpire said her foot wasn't on the bag," said Brewer, who was an inaugural member of the Mount Marty Hall of Fame. "The call in the second game was absurd. It's disappointing to come this far and then have that happen."

Donlin followed with a single to score Girard from second and give the Lancers the 7-6 win.

Erica Loutsch pitched all nine innings for the win, giving up six runs, three earned on 12 hits and four strikouts with one walk.

Donlin went 3-5 in the second game with three RBI. Cihak went one for two with two RBI and a run.

In the first game, Mount Marty jumped out to a quick 1-0 lead in the first inning on Lauren Donlin's RBI double.

Saint Mary's tied the game up at 1-1 in the second inning before Mount Marty put together a 4-run third inning and held on for the 6-3 win.

Romero, who celebrated her birthday Wednesday, said the team did exactly what they have worked on in practice lately.

"We've been practicing shorting up our swing and getting a hit with two strikes on us, and I feel we really executed that today," she said.

Brittany Bruns pitched all seven innings for the win, giving up three runs on five hits with one walk and four strike outs.

Donlin wen 2-3 with two RBI and two runs. Romero went 1-3 with two RBI.

Fernandez said all day he thought the team deserved to pull out the two wins.

"I think we played well, and played well enough to win," he said. "I preached to them to put the ball in play and get outs, and that's what we did today."

Mount Marty will play four games this weekend at home, starting with a Great Plains Athletic Conference double-header against Hastings Friday and another two games against GPAC foe Midland Lutheran.

pretty scaled back."

For other players, like redshirts and players lower on the depth chart, the workouts are more intense.

"We put them on a three-day program to help them get more developed, and try to get stronger and bigger so they can get on the field the following year," Jones noted.

Strength training is done on Mondays through Thursdays during the season, with Friday off for either travel or walk-throughs. Some training is done on Sundays as well.

The workouts don't end when a player has decided to pursue a NFL career, either.

"For the guys that want to train, we do give them the option to train (here)," Jones said. "Coach Dobson puts the program together, and we all work with them throughout the week. They did three days (a week) of lifting, some type of speed work almost every day, just working on the test (the athletics test given to NFL hopefuls)."

Several former Huskers who now play in the NFL come back during the off-season as well, especially during the summer as they prepare for their fall camps.

"We actually have quite a bit of guys that come back in the summer time to work out, guys like Jay Moore (Tennessee Titans), Barrett Ruud (Tampa Bay Buccaneeers) and Bo Ruud (New England Patriots) are around quite a bit in the summertime," Jones said. "We really encourage that, especially if they're hard workers, which those guys all are. We encourage that because our guys see those guys working, and our guys want to get to where they're at.

"It just helps the whole program out when we let those guys come back. Those guys appreciate that, too, and we love to have them around."

One of those who has appreciated the help the Husker strength and conditioning program has given him is Suh, who announced at the spring game that he will donate $2 million to the strength and conditioning program.

"He's done a great job of really supporting Nebraska strength and conditioning, because he realizes that it's helped him get to where he is today," Jones noted. "He is a very talented individual, one of the most talented guys I've ever seen. But there are other things that helped get him there. The job that Coach Dobson and the rest of the staff have done with him has helped him become that much better on the field."

Whether it's seeing a former Husker taken early in the NFL Draft or seeing a former backup work his way onto the field for Nebraska, Jones' job is rewarding.

"It's long hours and long days, but I love what I do. I love my job. I wouldn't change it for the world," he said. "I feel truly blessed to be at the University of Nebraska, which, for me is my dream job because I grew up a Husker fan.

"I'm living out my dream right now."
