

SESSION II
JULY 11-AUGUST 4

DRAWING I and II

“Drawing is the art of taking a line for a walk” said artist Paul Klee. This class teaches young artists the fundamentals of drawing and sketching as they learn to interpret “line” in their own way. Drawing assignments include still life’s, landscapes, all of which serve to expose students to work in pencil, colored pencil, pen and ink, felt-tip marker and charcoal. This course is ideal for students with little or no experience who want to discover the sheer fun and satisfaction of drawing. Students will learn the fundamentals of drawing with pencil, charcoal and graphite on paper. In the studio children develop their observational and technical skills while experimenting.
