Also, Bernie Hunhoff will give an update on legislative and state budget issues. SDSU Dean of Ag Dr Barry Dunn has also been invited to speak about the Extension budget cuts and closure of the SDSU Soils Testing Lab and Station Biochemistry.

Family Event To Be Held Sat. At Fish Hatchery

The National Park Service, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, and Keep Yankton Beautiful are partnering to host a fun and educational family event at Gavins Point National Fish Hatchery on Saturday, April 16, running from 10 a.m.-2 p.m.

The event will include celebrating National Junior Ranger Day, a Kids Fishing Derby, and a mini Great American Clean-Up.

The purpose of these events is to provide opportunities for children and families to visit their public lands and participate in outdoor activities that help them explore, learn about, and care for these special places.

Participating children of all ages will have the opportunity to earn a special patch, certificate and Junior Ranger badge as well as other prizes.

The day's events will include opportunities to fish in the hatchery's ponds and visit the aquarium, participate in programs and activities about the National Park System and Missouri National Recreational River, enjoy fun activities about threatened and endangered species that live in and along the river, enjoy an interactive stream table that shows how a river works and responds to change, take a guided walk and participate in a mini Great American Clean-Up and more.

For questions or more information, contact Anne Doherty-Stephan from the National Park Service at 605-665-0209 x29 or the Gavins Point National Fish Hatchery at 605-665-3352.

USD To Hold Philosophy Conference Saturday

VERMILLION — The University of South Dakota is hosting the second annual Philosophy Conference on Saturday, April 16.

The day begins at 10 a.m. with philosophy student presentations in room 107 of the Andrew E. Lee Memorial Medicine and Science Building, including a presentation from USD student Bo Pons, "The Need for Duality." Leroy Meyer, Ph.D., philosophy professor at USD, is one of three faculty members who will present at 2 p.m. at Farber Hall. Meyer's presentation is entitled, "S-1 and the Cultural Dimension of War & Peace."

The final conference event is the keynote address at 5 p.m. by Alan Schrift, Ph.D., F. Wendell Miller Professor of Philosophy at Grinnell College. Schrift's presentation, "French Nietzscheanism and the Emergence of Poststructuralism," is in Farber Hall, located in Old Main on the USD campus.

Sponsored by the Philosophy Program and the Department of Languages, Linguistics & Philosophy at USD, and by the USD Friends of Wisdom, the Philosophy Conference, which is free of charge and open to the public, is funded by a faculty teaching improvement grant from the USD Center for Teaching and Learning and by USD Student Services.

Postal Service Price Adjustments Set

WASHINGTON — The Postal Regulatory Commission has notified the U.S. Postal Service that price changes announced Jan. 13 satisfy the requirements of the law and will take effect April 17.

The first U.S. Postal Service mailing services price change in two years will have minimal impact on retail customers who will continue to pay only 44 cents for a stamp.

Price changes of note for retail customers include the following:

- First-Class Mail letters (1 oz.) remain unchanged at 44 cents,
- First-Class Mail additional ounces increase to 20 cents,
- Postcards will cost 29 cents,
- Letters to Canada or Mexico (1 oz.) increase to 80 cents, and
- Letters to other international destinations will remain unchanged at 98 cents.

"Postal Service products and services offer a great value to the American public," said Postmaster General Patrick R. Donahoe. "For a very affordable price, you can send letters, bill payments, packages, and other mail across town or across the nation."

The 1.7 percent average increase is at or below the rate of inflation as measured by the Consumer Price Index — although actual percentage price increases for various products and services vary.

Prices will also change for other mailing services, including Standard Mail, Periodicals, Package Services and Extra Services. Larger volume business mailers will see price increases in a variety of categories. Detailed pricing information is available online at www.usps.com/prices.

The Postal Service receives no tax dollars for operating expenses, and relies on the sale of postage, products and services to fund its operations.

ON THIS DATE

75 YEARS AGO

Wednesday, April 15, 1936

- Paying of the first half of the taxes with County Treasurer F. E. Fanslow is almost a week behind 1935, according to announcement made this morning by that official. That is, the number of tax payers who have made their peace with the county treasurer is less than it was at the same time last year.
- The thousands who come to Yankton to take part in the Dakota Territory Diamond Jubilee, June 7 to 13, will see a flower bedecked city if present plans are carried to completion. Some time ago, the official flower for the celebration was selected. The Petunia was chosen after considerable discussion and deliberation. Many have thought that the flowers might not be in bloom for the week of the celebration due to the lateness of spring. However, greenhouses and nurseries report that there is plenty of time, and that they are prepared for the demand for plants to beautify Yankton yards and gardens. It has been pointed out that plants should be set out within a few days and at least by May 1.

50 YEARS AGO

Saturday, April 15, 1961

- Hired this week by the Yankton Board of Education, to succeed Don R. Snowden as Senior High School principal was Kenneth J. Henseler, of Brandon, S. Dak. The principal-elect plans to move here about the first of July to begin his school duties.

- The Interstate Commerce Commission Friday authorized the Chicago & North Western Railway to abandon some portions of its Centerville-Yankton line. The company was granted authority to discontinue the segment between Wakonda and Volin and certain connecting trackage in Yankton.

25 YEARS AGO

Tuesday, April 15, 1986

- One person is dead and three people were located in Tripp after being reported missing early this morning, following the blizzard that paralyzed Yankton Monday. Traffic on 19th Street near Fante Memorial park was forced to drive around downed evergreen trees. The trees went down due to the high winds and wet snow with wind gusts as high as 89 mph recorded at Chan Gurney Municipal Airport.
- The winds hadn't subsided before farmers and ranchers started counting the casualties of the spring blizzard that swept central South Dakota. Hyde County rancher Simon Kusser estimated that at least 50 of his calves had died in the storm. Another central S.D. farmer found four dead calves and expected more might be buried in the snow.

BOARD OF TRADE

CHICAGO (AP) — Grains futures traded lower Thursday on the Chicago Board of Trade.

Wheat for May delivery fell 12.25 cents to $7.4050 a bushel; May corn fell 1.25 cent to $7.5425 a bushel; May oats dropped 4.75 cents to $3.82 a bushel; while soybeans for May delivery slipped 2.50 cents to $13.31 a bushel.

Beef and pork traded higher on the Chicago Mercantile Exchange.

June live cattle edged up 0.73 cent to $1.1650 a pound; August feeder cattle rose 0.80 cent to $1.3737 a pound; June lean hogs gained 1.17 cent to $1.0262 a pound; while May pork bellies rose 0.45 cent to $1.2595 a pound.

before using his uniform in an unsuccessful attempt to escape. Johnson died on his birthday.

Berget was serving life sentences for attempted murder and kidnapping, and had made at least two other escape attempts. Robert was serving an 80-year sentence for a kidnapping conviction.

The Corrections Department also announced Thursday that the prison had resumed standard operations after being in lockdown since Tuesday. Inmate visitation, telephone calls, religious activities, work and educational classes resumed on established schedules.

Robert put on Johnson's pants, hat and jacket before approaching the prison's west gate with his head down, pushing a cart loaded with two boxes. Berget was hidden in one of the boxes, according to a report by a state Division of Criminal Investigation agent.

When guards at the gate became suspicious, the two inmates began beating one guard. Other guards quickly arrived and detained Robert and Berget.

The report said Johnson was found on the floor behind the supervisor's office in a Pheasantland Industries building. His head had been wrapped in shrink wrap plastic used to wrap pallets for shipping, and a metal pipe found nearby contained a substance that could be blood, the agent wrote.

National prison expert Martin F. Horn said Thursday that information released so far doesn't indicate a need to overhaul the South Dakota prison system. Horn, who has led Pennsylvania's prison system and New York City's Corrections Department, also said the guard's age shouldn't be an issue, noting that many people Johnson's age are in better shape than their younger peers.

"I think we should wait until the criminal investigation is complete, until we know more, before we rush to any judgments one way or another," said Horn.

domain if an agreement can't be reached.

TransCanada's Cunha said the company is trying to secure easement agreements with all the landowners now because it wants to quickly begin constructing the pipeline if the State Department grants its approval. The company says eminent domain is its last resort.

"We are working collaboratively with landowners," Cunha said. "If we cannot reach a reasonable agreement with a landowner for this project, which we see in the public good, then the eminent domain process ensures that landowners are appropriately compensated, and that critical infrastructure can be developed."

Landowners who agree to easements with TransCanada will receive payment when they sign the agreement, and Cunha said landowners would keep the money even if the project isn't approved.

The State Department will collect additional public comment beginning this month and conduct another public hearing before issuing a decision on the project sometime before the end of 2011.
