Hoping For A Rally

Yankton's Kory Bromley, near, looks on as the Bucks faced Brookings Thursday at Riverside Field. Brookings rallied to win the opener 5-4 in eight innings. Results from the second game, and details on both games were not made available by presstime. (James D. Cimburek/P&D)

AREA DIGEST

SDSU Soccer Inks Two

BROOKINGS — The South Dakota State women's soccer team has announced the additions of Stephanie Krzywania and Megan Kingston to the 2011 roster. Krzywania, from Markham, Ontario, competed for Shattuck St. Mary's School in Faribault, Minn. She is the third Canadian to join the Jackrabbits, joining current Jacks Stéphanie Béribé and Elisa Stamatakis. Krzywania was a part of the 2010 Minnesota Olympic Development Program State Team and a member of the 2010 Midwest Regional League Championship team. She is a dual citizen of Canada and Poland. Kingston, an Omaha, Neb. native, joins the Jacks as a sophomore transfer from Nebraska-Omaha where she played midfield. She played her prep career at Millard North High School in Omaha, where former Jack Kaitlin Justice also competed. She ranked second on UNO with 23 points as a freshman, recording four goals and seven assists. She helped Millard North win a state soccer title as a sophomore, and earned second-team All-Nebraska and second-team All-Metro Conference as a senior. The Jacks kick off the 2011 season with an exhibition match-up Aug. 12 against Nebraska at Fishback Soccer Park.

Hudelson Earns GPAC Honor

SIoux CITY, Iowa — Morningside's Jessica Hudelson was named Great Plains Athletic Conference women's track athlete of the week. Hudelson, a junior from Elk Point, was involved in a pair of victories for the Morningside women at the Sioux City Relays on April 15-16. Hudelson won Friday's 800-meters with a time of 2:14.73 and anchored the Mustangs to a triumph in Saturday's sprint medley relay, which clocked a time of 4:16.69.

— nine on offense — from last year's 4-7 season, the first losing campaign under eighth-year coach Meierkort.
One of the few newcomers to the offense Anthony Williams, a sophomore transfer from Troy. With starting receivers Will Powell and Tom Flanagan out with injuries, Williams emerged as a big-play threat for quarterback Dante Warren.
"It all comes from continuous reps. Reps, reps, reps," said Williams, who had three catches for 41 yards. "Coach stresses a lot about finishing, so we had a lot of situation drills in practice. Now we just have to make it happen."
"When we've got a good position, we can't waste it."
The offense rushed for 148 yards and a pair of touchdowns, both coming in the first half. Junior Marcus Sims led the way with 30 yards on the ground, despite not being expected to play.

Asked later about the defensive line, which has been an area of emphasis all spring, Meierkort said he felt the game-plan by offensive coordinator Wes Beschorner helped neutralize the line.
"We didn't pressure the passer very well," Meierkort said. "Dante is pretty elusive, and Wesley was pretty smart getting him on the perimeter early. Once he gets out there, he'll be a headache."
"When our No. 1's were in there, we handled the run game pretty well."
