on the town's board of trustees. The election drew about 50 percent voter turnout. Pratt has served on the board since 2008. She will continue serving with fellow board members Becky Frank and Paul Bloch.

MENNO — The Menno school board will see two new faces as challengers claimed the three-year terms.

Kaleb C. Hight and Teresa Mettler won the seats with a respective 157 and 132 voters. The incumbents, Jill Haberman and Paula Munkvold, followed with 112 and 78, respec-

Tuesday's race, which drew 250 voters, marked the first school district election since 2008, according to school business manager Dale Weiss. He noted the district has seen few elections during his 16 years as business

The 2008 race also marked Menno's first joint city-school election, Weiss said. The 2008 election drew about 450 voters, while the prior school elections usually drew 200 to 300 voters annually, he said.

In recent years, the Menno school district's opt-out and bond issue drew high voter interest, he added.

MISSION HILL — The town board will see a new member, as challenger Thad Utech defeated incumbent D.W. Duhachek 32-22 for a three-year term. The election drew 54 of 103 registered, active voters for 52.3 percent voter turnout.

The other board members, Scott Vanburen and Bob Johnson, were not up for election this year.

Duhachek has served as mayor while on PICKSTOWN — Craig Noteboom and Diane Opbroek won the two three-year terms on the town board of trustees with a respective 67 and 51 votes. The other candidates were Amy Hoilien and Almon Adam with 13 and 12 votes, respectively.

Noteboom and Adam were incumbents in the race. SCOTLAND — In the mayor's race, Curtis Hofer defeated Zach Bakke 145-34 for a twoyear term. The race attracted 179 of 589 voters for a 30 percent turnout at the polls. A new mayor was guaranteed regardless of Tuesday's election outcome. Ron Orth had held the mayor's position but resigned when he moved to Sioux Falls. Dick Behl had seat but did not run for the new term. SPRINGFIELD — In the city race, Kent Hiemstra defeated Jerrame Larson 28-23 for the two-vear term as Ward I councilman. A new councilor was guaranteed, as incumbent
