Reflections

Making Love Our Quest

PASTOR TRACY HEADLEY Faith Alive Church

"Judge not, that you be not judged," Jesus said. "For with what judgment ye judge, ye shall be judged: and with what measure ye mete, it shall be meas-- Matthew 7:1-2 ured to you again." —

There are times, that you may be tempted to take it on yourself to make a person pay for the harm they have done to you and others-but resist that temptation.

Ås our Heavenly Father has done for us, we are to love them, forgive them, pray for them, and let Him deal with them, as He sees fit.

Our business is to pray for mercy rather than engage in judgment.

"Eagerly pursue and seek to acquire [this] love [make it your aim, your great quest].

- 1 Corinthian 14:1 Amplified Bible Our great quest is the goal of living a life ordered by and overflowing with the love of God.

Because God is love, love then, is the foundation of the Christians live.

Nothing works without it, and when it is in operation, success is guaranteed.

C. S. Lewis said; God loves us; not because we are lovable but because He is love, not because He needs to receive, but because He delights to give.

One of the most wonderful characteristics of love is that is always strives to believe the best.

Love doesn't criticize or cast judgment on others.

Even when a great wrong has been done, love says; I know that person's action was wrong, but I cannot rightly judge their heart, so I will pray for them, trust the Lord, and do Good.

When you're tempted to step out of love and into strife by judging a fellow believer, remember what Romans 14:4 say's and ask yourself: Who are you to condemn God's servants? They are responsible to the Lord, so let him tell them whether they are right or wrong. The Lord's power will help them do as they should

So, here are a few things to consider next time we feel the need to criticize or judge someone.

#1 We don't know all the facts. We never know the full story.

So instead of criticizing the person or their decision, let's give them the benefit of the doubt.

#2 Love believes the best. There is a big difference between disagreeing, defining right and wrong, or being critical and judgmental.

#3 Our words build up or they tear down. So let's use our words to build others up by being encouraging, and not tear people down by being a critic.

I will close with Philippians 1:9-19: "And this I pray, that your love may abound yet more and more in knowledge and in all judgment; 10 that ye may approve things that are excellent; that ye may be sincere and without offence till the day of Christ; 11 being filled with the fruits of righteousness, which are by Jesus Christ, unto the glory and praise of God!" Aren't you glad that God doesn't criticize us and judge us, but instead He loves us, forgives us, and cleanses us, so we can grow up more and more like Him!

Theology Institute At Sacred Heart Monastery Set

The April 25 Theology Institute at Sacred Heart Monastery continues a three-year focus on topics related to the fiftieth anniversary of the Catholic Church's Second Vatican Council. Even as the council unfolded, it was clear that its impact reached beyond Catholics to all Christian churches.

That far-reaching impact will also be evident in Dr. Massimo Faggioli's presentation, "The Liturgical Reform and the Church of Vatican II."

According to Faggioli, viewing Vatican II's document on liturgical reform as merely rearranging external elements of Catholic worship misses a much larger point. He proposes that the 1963 Constitution on the Sacred Liturgy set the agenda for the council's subsequent reflection on the nature of the church, thus influencing both subsequent documents and attempts at reform to the present.

Dr. Faggioli will clarify how Vatican II used the principles of a return to earliest Christian sources and an emphasis on reconciliation and unity. The return to sources sought not to simply repeat the ancient past, but to release its energy in new ways. One of those ways involved seeking dialogue and reconciliation among all Christians. These operating principles shaped the document on Catholic worship, but also led to Vatican II's re-imaging the church as "the people of God," a community embracing all who are baptized into Christian faith.

A native of Italy, Dr. Faggioli spent 12 years at the John XXIII Foundation in Bologna. Europe's leading school for training church historians. His research led him into numerous archives in several European countries, as well as the Vatican, including archives limited to a small number of scholars. "For scholars, the archives are treasures," states Faggioli. "If you want the whole picture, you must go there." The historian of modern Catholicism and Vatican II earned his PhD at the University of Turin in 2002. Post-doctoral research fellowships at Laval University in Quebec and Boston College's Jesuit Institute brought him to North America. Since 2009, he has served at the University of St. Thomas in St. Paul, MN, where he is an associate professor of theology.

"The monastery is very fortunate to have Dr. Faggioli as a speaker," noted Sr. Marielle Frigge. "Our earlier presenter, retired Bishop Remi Do Roo, who participated in Vatican II, told us 'If you ever want someone to speak on the council's views on liturgy and church, Massimo Faggioli is your best source.'

Sacred Heart Monastery will host "The Liturgical Reform and the Church of Vatican II" from 9 a.m. to noon on Saturday, April 25. There is no charge, but pre-registration is requested for planning

Call 605-668-600 or e-mail Sister Marielle Frigge at mfrigge@mtmc.edu by April 22.
