

Vegetable And Flower Show, A Bountiful Success

BY BRENDA K. JOHNSON
P&D Correspondent

Yankton Town & Country Garden Club sponsored the seventh annual public participation and show on August 6, at the Yankton Community Library Meeting Room. Best of Show top honors and second place certificates were judged and awarded by club members to adult and junior entries.

One of the Best of Show awardees was Donna Ellis. "The daylilies and weigela (shrub branches used for this arrangement) literally grew off the end of our deck," Ellis said. "I picked them Saturday morning, arranged the flowers, added twigs from the shop. The container was left from a rummage sale."

Betts Pulkrabek, President of Yankton Town & Country Garden Club, was pleased with 127 entries this year. "About half the entries were from within the club and the rest were from the Yankton area, Wakonda, Gayville, Tabor, and Nebraska. A few entries were from the Yankton Federal Prison Camp. The last four years we have worked together for the prison entries." Pulkrabek expressed thanks for show participation.
