Vig Honored With Memorial Scholarship

Yankton native Mark Vig was the 2012 recipient of the Dick Ruddell Memorial Scholarship from the South Dakota Umpires Association, according to a recent announcement.

The annual scholarship is awarded to an individual who is involved with baseball in the state of South Dakota, and serves as an umpire of youth, VFW Teener and legion games. The recipient must be enrolled in a 4-year institution and have at least one year left of school.

Vig, a senior at the University of Sioux Falls, has coached in the Yankton Baseball Association since 2009. This past summer, he served as an assistant coach for the Yankton Post 12 American Legion team.

In addition to his five years on the USF baseball program, Vig has served on the university's Student Athlete Advisory Committee (SAAC).

Soccer: Gazelles JV Ties Warriors

SIOUX FALLS - Madison Styles and Madason Tessier scored goals to propel Yankton to a 2-2 tie with Washington on Tuesday night. Linze Cowman added an assist.

Defensively, Raquel Cole stopped eight shots in goal for Yankton (1-0-1).

WOMEN 60-64: 1. Donna Alberts, Yankton

Wednesdays and Fox College Sports (Central) at 5:30 p.m. on Thursdays.

When you first read that Minnesota State University, Mankato head football coach Todd Hoffner was escored

Two weeks before the season and the school chose then to essentially fire their football coach? So, those of us interested in the situation waited for an official announcement from MSU. And we waited some more. Then still, more waiting. The weekend came and went with nothing from the school - even something as simple as "Coach Hoffner was relieved of his duties on Friday."

off the practice field last week and placed on administrative leave, you knew something serious was about to

Hosted by Tom Nieman, "Inside The Summit League" is a 30-minute weekly sports television magazine that includes highlights, news and features from The Summit League and its nine member institutions. The program will review and preview games and provide feature stories on student-athletes and coaches from across the league. Segments will also include "insiders" and news and notes from around the league. In addition, a weekly "Campus Spotlight" will profile the happenings on campuses across the league.

The debut episode includes a preview of the volleyball season as well as a women's soccer preview and recap of the first weekend of competition. This week's show also includes a visit to Fort Wayne and the campus of IPFW.

"Inside The Summit League" episodes will also be available on Fridays via The Šummit League website.

Crofton Men's Bowling Meeting Thursday

CROFTON, Neb. — The preseason meeting for the Crofton Men's Commercial Bowling League will be held Thursday, Aug. 23, at 7 p.m. in Centennial Lanes in Crofton, Neb.

For more information, contact Brian Wiebelhaus at 402-388-4640.

Yet, to simply let the situation fester and allow rumors to circulate (which we have to assume they did; we weren't there) is irresponsible. Even if it was an ongoing police investigation, which we found out Tuesday that it was a simple statement or reason would have alleviated questions

It was upsetting to hear Tuesday that Hoffner, a former offensive coordinator at the University of South Dakota, was arrested on suspicion of child pornography. We should mention that Hoffner — a married father of three children — has not been formally charged, but from the standpoint of another college coach engaged in such hideous acts, it doesn't really matter.

Markato won a share of the Northern Sun Intercollegiate Conference (NSIC) title last fall and has recorded a 34-13 record in Hoffner's tenure, but all of that is now lost in what is an ugly situation. Current players and coaches will have to deal with the repercussions all season, and that is unfortunate.

Sabers Signs With DWU Women

MITCHELL - Dakota Wesleyan University women's basketball coach Jason Christensen announced Tuesday that Mitchell senior Kristin Sabers has signed to play for the Tigers starting in the 2013-14 season

Sabers, a 6-foot forward, has been a part of the varsity Kernel squad since her eighth grade year. As a freshman she averaged 10 points and six rebounds per game and as a sophomore she averaged 12 points and six rebounds per game for coach Wes Morgan.

In her junior season, Sabers averaged 8.5 points and five rebounds per game and helped Mitchell to a 24-1 overall record and the Class AA state title. She is a four-backs in Pittsburgh.

"If we can win every game running it 35-40 times, that would be great," Haley said. "Statistically, if you hand the ball off 30-plus times in a game, you've got a 90-plus percent chance of winning.

Meaning there should be plenty of carries to go around even after Mendenhall and Redman return. Dwyer has certainly looked the part during his limited reps during his first two seasons. He ripped of a memorable 76-yard run in a win over Tennessee last fall before a broken bone in his left foot ended his season

He pledged to get in better shape for camp and did it by getting serious about his conditioning.

It was never a problem during his phenomenal career at Georgia Tech, when he rushed for 3,226 vards in three memorable seasons playing in the Yellow Jackets' unique flexbone offense.

It was during his first two years in Pittsburgh, when he carried the > ball all of 25 times. Compare that to his final year at Georgia Tech when he had 235 carries in 13 games.

The Steelers saw enough to take him in the sixth round of the 2010 draft, and he has spent the last two summers trying to prove he is not just a product of Georgia

'That's what you're always trying to do," Dwyer said. "I want to be the best there is, just like everybody else in this locker room."

vert out of Pittsburgh's offensive linemen, who view his straightforward approach as a blessing of sorts.

"He makes a decision and he sticks with it," tackle Max Starks said. "You don't want guys dancing or always thinking about cutting back the entire time. He makes his one cut and he gets north and south. You want that because it makes it easier for us.

wrong. The Steelers aren't trying to turn the clock back 40 years. Haley doesn't need the running game to be groundbreaking, just effective. This is the same coach, after all, who let Kurt Warner throw it 598 times in 2008 while calling the

FARGO, N.D. (AP) — North Dakota State University backup quarterback Esley Thorton is being moved to outside line-

Coach Craig Bohl says the sophomore who was a standout at Bismarck High asked to try another position so he could get on the field after freshman Carson Wentz beat him out for the backup quarterback job. Wentz is a former prep standout at Bismarck Century.

Thorton says he got a fair chance at quarterback. He says he has to make a change and linebacker is the best fit for him. It's not clear where he fits on the linebacker depth chart, but he will play on special teams.

NDSU begins its season on Sept. 1 at home against Robert Morris. The Bison are the defending champions of the Football Championship Subdivision.

strengths is versatility," Haley said. "You don't want to do a lot of things just OK. You'd like to do some things real good. I think with some of the ability we have, and if our line continues to gel together and gets better every week, we have a chance to be a pretty versatile group that can hurt you in a number of ways.

Dwyer simply hopes he is one of them.

"I just want to help us get to New Orleans and get that seventh ring," he said.
