Larson's Landing To Hold Grand Re-Opening Saturday

Larson's Landing, which was devastated by the 2011 flood along the Missouri River, will have a grand re-opening Saturday morning.

The public is invited to visit the RV park west of Yankton from 10 a.m. to noon.

Snacks and tours will be provided.

"One of the big things will be to take people behind the property so they can see how high the water was on the trees," said Linda Larson. "So many people came out here during the flood and looked at this place all full of water. We want to show them what we've done in the last year."

Find out more about the Larson's Landing recovery in Saturday's edition of the Press & Dakotan.

Citizens Reminded To Watch For Weeds

Noxious weeds are still thriving in this hot, dry weather. They are cropping up in lawns and along street curbs. Weeds aren't only unsightly; they are a violation of city ordinance.

Take a few minutes today when you get home to survey your own lawn. Cut or chemically treat and then cut down any of those pesky noxious weeds you find.

For more information, visit cityofyankton.org or call 605-668-5251.

Speakers will also be set up along the route for parents and students in line or moving around campus.

KAOR Student Manager Nathan Puhl will host the broadcast. He said he plans to interview leaders of several USD student organizations and discuss other topics pertinent to the first day of the 2012-13 academic year.
