L&CTC To Hold Auditions Next Week

Lewis and Clark Theater Co. auditions for "Dial 'M' for Murder" have been scheduled for 3 p.m. Sunday, Aug. 26, and 7 p.m. Monday, Aug. 27, at the Dakota Theatre in downtown Yankton.

The cast for this classic mystery includes 5-6 men and one woman.

Performance dates are Oct. 25-29.

If you can not make it for the scheduled times, call 660-4555 for a special audition.

Dykstra To Perform In Avon Sunday

AVON — Avon native and University of South Dakota graduate Paul Dykstra bring his piano trio to Avon for "An Afternoon of Chamber Music" at 2 p.m. Sunday, Aug. 26, at the Avon High School auditorium.

Just prior to leaving for the Singer Festival in Warsaw, Poland, and Central Europe, Dykstra brings this American piano trio to his hometown audience. Joining Dykstra are David Lisker, recent graduate of the Julliard School of Music studying with Itzhak Perlman, and Abraham Feder, principal cellist of the Sarasota Symphony Orchestra and graduate of the Curtis Institute of Music.

The program features the chamber music of Bloch, Kreisler, Mendelssohn, Saint-Saens and Shostakovich.

This concert is brought to Avon through the support of the Friends of the Shalom Foundation of Warsaw.

Auditions For Children's Choir Are Monday

Final auditions set for the 20th season of the Yankton Children's Choir will be held at 5-7 p.m. Monday, Aug. 27, at United Church of Christ, located at Fifth and Walnut, Yankton (entrance by alley).

Auditions are open to all children in grades 3-8 during the 2012-2013 school year and may be attending any school in the Yankton area. Singers must be accompanied by a parent or guardian. Singers will be asked to sing "My Country 'Tis of Thee" and "Row, Row, Row Your Boat."

Rehearsals for this season's Yankton Children's Choir will begin Monday, Sept. 10, and continue weekly through May.

Tuition is charged for participation in the choir, but Executive Director Dot Stoll pointed out that, "We don't want financial concerns to stop any child from being in the choir. Scholarships and payment plans are available for those who need it."

The choir is directed by Deb Kruse and accompanied by Dixie Church.

For further information, contact Stoll at 605-660-1819 or dotster700@hotmail.com.

Photo Club To Hold Organizational Meeting

An organizational meeting for the Yankton Area Photography Club will be held at 7 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 5, at the Yankton Community Library, 515 Walnut Street. Anyone in the area interested in photography is welcome to attend.

For more information, contact Luana at 260-6643 or yapc2012@gmail.com.

The Book Shelf

'Lines' Offers Creative Fairy Tale

"Between the Lines," by Jodi Picoult and Samantha Van Leer, Simon & Schuster, Inc., 2012. 368 pages. For ages 12 and up.

BY PAT HANSEN

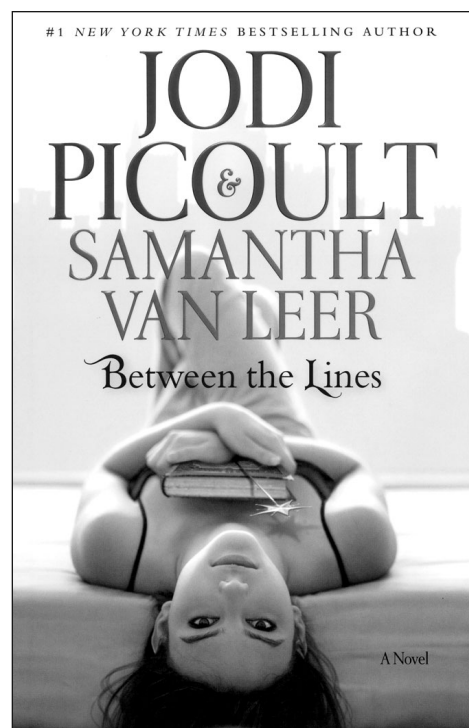

Fairy tales are great because we know how they end. The prince always saves the princess and they live happily ever after. But what if that's not what the prince or princess wants? Does it have to be that way?

Delilah is a 15-year-old loner, with one friend to her name. She just doesn't fit in with the popular kids, especially after she breaks the knee of the head cheerleader. She'd much rather find her friends in books. For some reason, she's intrigued by a hand-drawn original book in the school library, a fairy tale actually.

Delilah reads the book once, then reads it again. And again. And again. Something about Oliver, the prince in the book, draws her. He's on a quest to save a princess from an evil man, but he's not brave. His father died fighting a dragon. Delilah can sympathize with what it's like to grow up without a dad. To Delilah, it just feels like Oliver is looking right into her eyes. Oliver understands her.

So even though she knows it's bordering on insane, she keeps reading about Oliver over and over. Finally, though, she decides she needs to return the book and try to live a normal life. Right after one last time reading it ...

This time, though, something seems off. Delilah reads through the entire book until she spots it — on the last page where the prince and princess get married on the beach. She sees a chessboard drawn into the sand. It's never been there before.

She flips to page 43, where the prince is scaling a cliff with a knife in his teeth. And she sees him carve the words "help me" into the cliff.

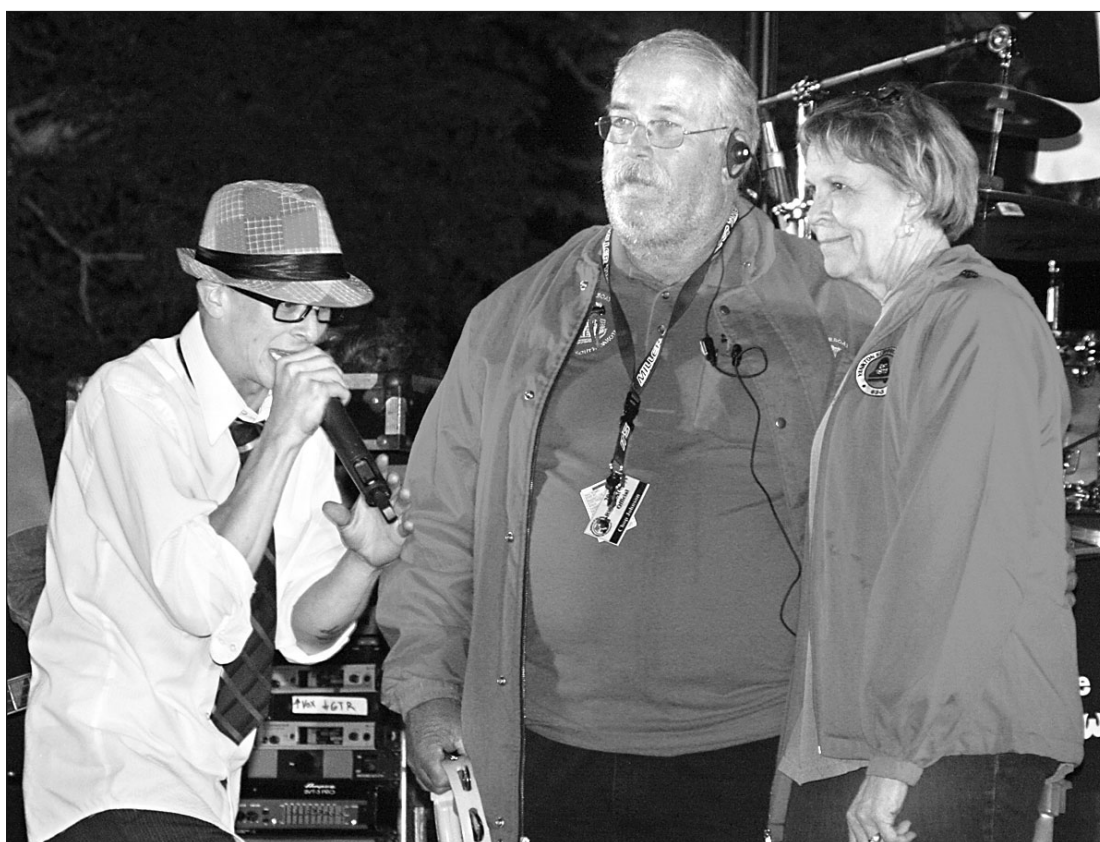

Oliver has tried to contact readers of the book before. He's sung at the top of his lungs. Or waited until the last minute to jump into the story when the book is being opened. No matter what he does, though, he and the other characters are pulled, as if by a magnetic force, into their positions as the book is opened. And they all dutifully say their lines and act their parts. When the book closes, however, they are all free to live their own lives until the book opens again.

The wicked villain is actually a nice guy who likes to paint and try new recipes. Oliver is not in love with the princess. And Oliver is getting tired of it all. He's realizing there's another whole world where the readers live. He can see their faces, hear their conversations and see their surroundings. What would it be like to explore that world, he wonders. A world where anything could happen, where his whole life isn't a script for him to act out over and over again. But despite his attempts, he can't communicate with them.

Until this one. Delilah. Delilah is sure she's losing it, but she loves talking to Oliver. They become close friends and try to find a way for Oliver to leave the book so they can actually meet in person.

This book is different from much of what's out there for books, but in a good way. It stretches the imagination which is fun for any age. Take a read through it — you might see fairy tales in a whole new realm.

CROWD PLEASERS

KELLY HERTZ/P&D

The Dweebz were once again a big hit at Yankton's Riverboat Days last weekend. The band has become a Saturday night mixture and keeps the crowds very entertained (as well as informed, as shown here when the band honored Chop and Marlene Johnson of Yankton on their 40th wedding anniversary). The Wisconsin-based band is returning to the state next week when it plays at the South Dakota State Fair in Huron Aug. 31.

Vermillion Library To Offer Youth Programs

VERMILLION — Planning is under way for fall programs at the Vermillion Public Library.

There are story times available for children ages 1-5.

- Toddler Story Time meets in the Community Room on Tuesdays and is for ages 1-3. Times are 10:30 a.m., 11:15 a.m. and 6 p.m. Each half-hour session will include several short books, music and movement. An adult care giver must be present during these programs and registration is required.

- Preschool Story Times are offered several times a week, on Monday evenings at 6:30 p.m. and 7 p.m., and Wednesday and Thursday mornings at 11:15 a.m. This program is for ages 3-5 and involves a longer book and a related craft project. During this half-hour program, children will be in the Activity Room and parents are encouraged to remain in the Children's Area. All of these fall programs are free of charge and run from Sept. 10 to Nov. 29. Registration is required. You may register your child for Toddler or Preschool Story Time by calling 677-7060, emailing vpl@sdl.net, or stopping in the library at 18 Church Street.

After-school programs are also offered for school age children. Programs are generally on Thursdays from 3:45-5 p.m. and include activities such as trivia, games, crafts and scavenger hunts. Snacks or treats are provided by the library at each after school program. Fall programs for early elementary students include Pete the Cat on Sept. 13; Ladybug Girl and the Bug Squad on Oct. 4; and Secret Agent Training on Nov. 1. For upper elementary students there will be Super Science on Sept. 27; Creepy Crawlies on Tuesday, Oct. 23; and Crime Caper Mystery on Nov. 15. A special program to introduce this year's Children's Choice Books, the Prairie Bud and Prairie Pasque lists, is open to all children in grades kindergarten through fifth and will be held on Thursday, Oct. 11. No registration is necessary for these programs.

Young adults in grades 6-12 are invited to a special program at 3 p.m. Sept. 30. Activities will focus on Banned Books Week. The Teen Advisory Group and YA Book Club will also be organized at this time. If you are interested in participating in either of these groups, make plans to attend or contact Joyce at the library.

For more information, call the library at 677-7060 or email vpl@sdl.net.

Sept. 22 Canoeing, Kayaking Event On The Missouri River To Start At Riverside Park

Siouxland enthusiasts are invited to a canoeing and kayaking outing event on the Missouri River, set for 9 a.m., Saturday, Sept. 22, at Riverside Park boat ramp, Yankton.

The group will travel 15 miles to Myron Grove (Highline) near Meckling. Some of the features of this stretch of the Missouri National Recreational River Water Trail include the confluence of the James River, Audubon Bend and miles of undeveloped wild and scenic river.

Provide your own kayak or canoe, or rent one in advance from D.J.'s Sports Rentals 605-665-3206. They'll also do shuttle service. No guide service will be provided, so be prepared to navigate on your own. Bring your own water, snacks, and sunscreen.

For any questions about the event, contact Jarrett Bies of the South Dakota Canoe & Kayak Association at 605-941-4940. For event updates or information about the water trail, visit www.mnrrwatertrail.org, facebook.com/mnrrwatertrail.

Quilt Show Set For Vermillion

VERMILLION — Local quilters will display both past and present quilts at the Vermillion Area Quilt Show, set for Sept. 9-15 at W.H. Over Museum. The show runs from 1-4 p.m. each day.

At 11 a.m.-4 p.m. Sept. 15, vendors will have quilting supplies and material, etc., for sale. There will be information on area barn quilts, care of quilts, and decorative needle stitching. Coffee and treats will be in the hospitality room.

Admission will be a free-will donation. Proceeds go to the museum.

Individuals wishing to display quilts should contact Pat at 605-670-3045 for more information. There is a limit of three submissions per person.

Bristow Visits Hay Country Jamboree On Sept. 1

GAYVILLE — Gayville Hall presents its monthly musical variety show, "The Hay Country Jamboree," at 8 p.m. on Saturday, Sept. 1, in Gayville.

Jamboree regulars, including country music hosts John and Susan McNeill, fiddler Owen De-Jong, and guitarist and singer Nick Schwebach will welcome Sioux Falls singer and musician Boyd Bristow as their special guest.

Staged the first Saturday each month, Jamborees always feature three or more musical acts on stage together trading old-time tunes, country, bluegrass, and humor by turn, according to producer Doug Sharples.

The shows are two hours long, including a short intermission midway, and are presented in an alcohol-and-smoke free setting.

Bristow is a member of the old-time music quartet East of Westerville and was a veteran of South Dakota's "Acoustic Christmas" concerts.

Gayville Hall is located at 502 Washington Street in Gayville. Call 605-267-2859 for ticket information.

S.D. Country Music HOF Ceremonies Slated Sept. 9

OACOMA — The ninth annual South Dakota Country Music Hall of Fame will be held Sunday, Sept. 9, at the Cedar Shore Resort in Oacoma/Chamberlain. The ceremony begins at 2 p.m. and is open to the public. There is no cover charge.

The inductees for 2012 are: Cleo Bee, Hayward, Wis., and Sioux Falls area; Stringbean Svenson, Hermosa; Roy King, Armour; Larry Yarrow, Webster/Waubay; Rory Hoffman, Lemmon and Nashville; George Mallory, Sioux Falls; Elizabeth Foss, Scotland; John and Susan McNeill, Springfield; Chip Bradley, Caputa; Dave Bergquist, Lynch, Neb.; and Wagner area; and Rob Stack, Sioux Falls.
