By the time we pulled up in front of our apartment building, it was 2 a.m.

Monday was already staring us in the face.

My wife and I arrived back from Sioux Falls from our weekend getaway — err, "working vacation" where I was covering the S.D. State Class B Amateur Baseball Tournament.

day, with plenty of time in between sessions to do some shopping and visit family Saturday night's storms, however, put a kink in that schedule, and I ended up doing one game Saturday morning and four on Sunday. Crofton's first-round game with Lake Norden was postponed

Saturday night and moved across town to Augustana's Ronken Field on Sunday afternoon. It was a stressful Sunday, for sure, but I've never been one to complain about amateur basebal

Saturday Rainout Made For Long Sunday At State Amateur The state tournament always nearly overlaps with the start of fall sports — although our preview work had already started before the month of August rolled around — but it always makes for a fun ex-

That's what I kept reminding myself Sunday as I criss-crossed Western Avenue in Sioux Falls, going from Sioux Falls Stadium to Ronken Field and back to Sioux Falls Stadium for two night games. I kept thinking, "You can do it; you've done it before." By the time the dust had settled on a crazy Sunday, two of our South Central League teams The original schedule had me covering (and shooting) two games on Saturday and three on Sun-

(Wynot and Lesterville) were eliminated from the tournament — both in the second round. . We still have Irene (tonight), as well as Crofton and Tabor (both Wednesday), alive for a championship, and if history is any indication, two things will happen: 1) At least one team will seriously contend for a state title, most likely Crofton; and 2) We'll have more long nights in Sioux Falls this week. For example, both Irene and Tabor have start times at 8 p.m. — though that usually means 8:30.

Word to the wise for my colleagues: Bring caffeine.

Cleveland Indians 3-0 Monday Albers (2-0) allowed just two singles, walked none and struck out two. Brian Dozier and Trevor Plouffe homered to help the Twins win for the eighth time in 11 games. Prized prospect Danny Salazar (1-1) gave up three runs on three hits with three walks and five strikeouts in four innings. The slumping Indians have lost seven of their last eight and are in danger of sliding out of the playoff chase.

Jason Kipnis and Yan Gomes had the only hits for Cleveland. Albers, a soft-tossing lefty from Canada, had Tommy John surgery in 2009 and made his big league debut at 27 years old in his last start. He threw 8 1-3 scoreless innings at Kansas City and now has ripped off 17 1-3 straight scoreless to start his career.

He kept the Indians off-balance with an assortment of breaking pitches all night, outshining the overpowering Salazar in the process. The 23-year-old Salazar blazed  $\,$ through Cleveland's minor league system, striking out 129 in 21 outings. That didn't stop when he got called up.
