sports@yankton.net My first-ever trip to Mitchell for the South Dakota Amateur baseball tournament was last week. What a well ran and great place to have a large baseball tournament. I have covered Tabor so far, and wow, let's just say they have some loyal and dedicated fans. It's been fun to watch them play and their fans having a great time, as well. It's something that is lost in baseball, and sports in general, that small-town amateur baseball brings back, the fun from the fans.

There is something about Cadwell Park at the atmosphere and the 'show' that they put on for amateur fans, it's truly special. From the 'legendary' hamburgers, to the drinking for the fans, it is a great It has a presence of small town baseball, but also has the set-up for caravans of fans from around of things once it comes down to who will host the tournament.

I covered a few games last summer in Sioux Falls at The Bird Cage. Don't get me wrong, the stadium is better than Cadwell, but the atmosphere cannot be beat.

This has been one of the better weeks I have had here at the Press and Dakotan. I have watched some great baseball and I know it only gets better from here.

The tournament will return to Mitchell next summer, but however the 2016 tournament is up for

A message to Yankton, looking at what Mitchell has done, can be a great bar to set for the bid they will put coming in the future. With a great scenery, like Riverside Field, there is no reason why Yankton couldn't host it. With the addition of a turffed infield can help their cause, as well. So, looking at what Mitchell has done, and adding their own spin, expect to see Yankton in the thick

Moore for the Dolphins' backup job behind starter Ryan Tannehill. Moore has been nursing a sore shoulder and didn't play in the first exhibition game last week, but he practiced Monday. Quinn was with the Seahawks, Rams and Jets last year but didn't play. He is 4-16 as a starter and has thrown 12 touchdown passes and 17 interceptions, including two touchdown passes and eight interceptions in 2012, when he started eight games for the Chiefs. "I feel extremely blessed for the opportunity to be a part of the Miami Dolphins!" Quinn tweeted. "Thank you for all of the well wishes. Fins Up!"

Quinn was a star at Notre Dame and the 22nd pick in the 2007 draft by the Cleveland Browns after being widely projected to go higher. Fans at the Dolphins 2007 draft party booed when the team passed on Quinn with the ninth pick and instead took receiver Ted Ginn Jr. Moore, due to make $4 million this season, has 25 career starts but played in only three games in Joe Philbin's first two seasons as the Dolphins' coach.

Quinn has a career passer rating of 64.4. Moore's is 79.3

being that presence that can get some big hits for us,' Royals general manager Dayton Moore said. "He had a big hit yesterday actually against Oakland. He's a professional. He's a winner. We feel very strong that he's going to help our team. He's the type of player and presence that you add at this time of year."

Moore said that Willingham is more likely to serve as a designated hitter than play in the outfield, where there is already a logjam of players. Billy Butler, the club's normal DH, has been forced to play first base while Eric Hosmer is on the disabled list with a right hand injury. "I think he'll be in the lineup most days as we set up right now." Moore said. The Royals cleared space for Willingham on the 40-man roster by requesting unconditional release waivers on right-hander Wilking Rodriguez. They will still have to make a move to add Willingham to the 25-man roster when he reports to Kansas "It doesn't soak in immediately," Willingham said. "It's one of those things you don't know what your mind is processing. You know it's going on but you have mixed emotions. Any time you're saying goodbye to really good friends, it's tough, but at the same time — the other side of it, the baseball side of it they're winning over there.

From a business side, it's good for me."

The 23-year-old Adam, ho grew up in the Kansas City suburb of Overland Park, was 5-9 with a 4.67 ERA with Double-A Northwest Arkansas and Triple-A Omaha this season. And while the Royals had toyed with making him a reliever, the Twins intend to convert him back to a starter.

He will be assigned to the club's Double-A affiliate in New Britain.

"His stuff is pretty impressive," Twins GM Terry Ryan said. "You look at his bio, his numbers aren't eye-popping, but you see him play, a number of our people have put in good reports on him. We're going to slow him down a bit and see if we can't get some of that under control."
