Celebrate Farmers Union Day At The South Dakota State Fair

HURON — As a premiere sponsor of the South Dakota State Fair, S.D. Farmers Union invites fairgoers to help them celebrate Farmers Union Day at the State Fair Aug. 30.

"This is South Dakota's largest agriculture fair, we are excited to help celebrate South Dakota's number one industry," said Doug Sombke, President of South Dakota Farmers Union.

The day-long celebration is packed with awards, scholarships, Farm Safety FFA Quiz Bowl Championship and a Farmers Share Luncheon which is free and designed to share the truth about how much farmers receive for the groceries we see at local retailers.

"Whenever prices go up in the grocery store, you hear people talk about farmers and ranchers lining their pockets, when the truth is, of that $5 box of cold cereal, the corn farmer is only taking home about 4 cents," explained Karla Hofhenke, SD Farmers Union Executive Director. "The lunch we serve would cost about $8 at the grocery store but South Dakota farmers only receive about 40 cents."

During the day, five South Dakotans will be recognized for giving back to their rural communities with the Rural Dakota Pride Award. Hofhenke explains the integral connection between those who work in South Dakota's number one industry and their rural communities.

"One survives with the other," she said. "Without thriving communities, it's difficult to encourage young people to return to their family's farm or ranch. Rural communities are key to the future of South Dakota's agriculture industry; which is why we like to recognize those individuals who help them thrive."

This year's recipients include: Cindy Wilk, Huron; Jeff Kieser, Wessington Springs; Alan Vedvei, Lake Preston; Nick Nemec, Holabird; and John Wheeling, Groton.

Youth will receive more than $25,000 in scholarships during the day from scholarship programs sponsored by S.D. Farmers Union Insurance and S.D. Farmers Union Foundation. The 2014 scholarship recipients include: Chesney Garnos, Presho; Danika Pollreis, Ethan; Emily Massey, Olivet; Lisa Smith, Kimball; Carly Goodhart, Browns Valley, Minn.; Lan Blasius, Wall; Brittney

ON THIS DATE

75 YEARS AGO

Wednesday, August 16, 1939
—Within the next day or two, a landmark in Yankton of more than fifty years will pass from the scene. Workmen who are remodeling the old city hall on Walnut street for a garage today began tearing down the old cupola, which surmounts the front of the building and from which, for years and years, the fire bell changed its message to arouse Yankton citizens and bring its volunteer firemen on the run.

—With a good-sized crowd of farmers on hand, and crop experts from State college, representatives of implement and insurance companies and others present, demonstration of equipment designed to control creeping jenny was in progress this afternoon on a field east of the Francis Donohoe farm, on the north Douglas avenue road.

50 YEARS AGO

25 YEARS AGO

Wednesday, August 16, 1989
—It has been five years since the project was first considered, but it appears Arens Recycling will have its Yankton plant in operation this fall. The new company will recycle the city's garbage, selling items of value and making burnable fuel pellets out of the rest.

—The Yankton Area Chamber of Commerce approved the applications of three businesses for chamber memberships at its meeting today. The new businesses are: The Golf Factory, owner Dean Hutchins; Culligan Water Conditioning, owner Eldon Moon; and Central Plains Service Center, owner Dale Hebda. The three businesses were approved unanimously.
