USD Football Announces Season

Captains

VERMILLION — Senior linebacker Keyen Lage, senior wide receiver Eric Shufford, junior quarterback Ryan Saeger and junior running back Trevor Bouma have been named captains of South Dakota's football team for the upcoming season as voted on by their peers. The team will also pick a special teams player each week to serve as a fifth captain on game days.

Lage was selected a captain for the second consecutive season. The Sioux Falls native has started 26 consecutive games at linebacker dating back to his true freshman season of 2012.

Shufford, a native of Rialto, Calif., was an honorable mention all-MVFC choice a year ago after leading the Coyotes with 53 catches for 699 yards and five touchdowns.

Saeger completed 43-of-80 passes for 570 yards and two touchdowns in four starts last season. The Hartland, Wis., native also ran for 200 yards and four scores in those starts. Bouma, a native of LeMars, Iowa, has run for 1,289 yards and six touchdowns in his first two seasons as a Coyote. The quartet will lead the Coyotes onto the field for the first time in 2015 on Sept. 5 when South Dakota faces Kansas State in Manhattan, Kan. The game will serve as the season opener for both teams.

Likness At QB Club

The Yankton Quarterback Club will begin its 2015-16 season on Wednesday at noon at the Elks Lodge, 504 West 27th Street, Yankton.

Kicking off the 69th season of the QB Club as featured speaker is Yankton High School head football coach Arlin Likness, who will talk about the defending Class 11AA champion Bucks and their season-opening rematch with Brookings. The public is invited to attend.

SDSU Wrestling Schedule Set

BROOKINGS — The South Dakota State University wrestling team will host one tournament and seven home duals during the upcoming 2015-16 season, including two duals against squads that finished in the top 10 at last year's NCAA Championships.

The season kicks off Nov. 1, when the Jackrabbits host the Warren Williamson/ Daktronics Open.

The Jackrabbits, who posted an 11-8 dual record during the 2014-15 campaign, open the home dual season Nov. 21 against Virginia Tech. The dual against a Hokies squad that finished 10th at the 2015 NCAA Championships will be on the back end of a doubleheader with the Jackrabbit women's basketball team's matchup against Notre Dame.

On Nov. 27, Oklahoma State pays a visit to Brookings. The Cowboys, owners of 31 NCAA team titles through their storied history, finished seventh at the 2015 NCAA Championships.

SDSU closes out the calendar year by hosting North Dakota State on Dec. 13 as the two rivals open and a home-and-home series, with the return matchup set for the season finale Feb. 21 in Fargo in what will be a Big 12 Conference dual.

SDSU's first dual action of the season will take place Nov. 7 at the Minnesota Quad in Minneapolis, where the Jackrabbits will take on Minnesota, Virginia and Grand Canyon. The Jackrabbits will face another Big Ten Conference opponent and perennial national title contender Dec. 4, when it travels to 2015 NCAA runner-up Iowa. Minnesota placed eighth at the 2015 NCAA Championships.

Gazelles

commitment on this Gazelle team and there are plenty of experienced players to guide and mentor the younger ones.

"I think we have a lot of experience and that is our biggest strength," said Beste.

To help her set an example, Beste will have eight seniors at her disposal, five of whom have seen previous varsity playing time. The five returning varsity seniors are Sophie Drotzmann, Ellie Fedders, Hannah Bochkolt, Danielle Salvatori, and Becky Frick.

Frick will be the player to watch for the Gazelles this season, and Beste it looking to her to set the example for the rest of the team.

"We are really looking for Becky to be a leader on and off the court this year," said Beste.

of the South Dakota Heat AAU program, King was able to improve his shooting – which he said was an off-season focus – and play against top competition from the region.
"I just took it all in and didn't really stress about it," King said. "Other guys I talked to, they just don't like it, but I feel like I thrive off it."
Now, as King has started his senior year at Irene-Wakonda, his college decision is officially behind him – he will officially sign in November.
"I didn't think it'd be that big of a deal, but I felt really relieved," King said. "Now I don't have to think about it all the time."

McGuire

"It'll be nice for my parents, too," McGuire added. "They won't have to fly to Baltimore or Atlanta or Charlotte to see me play." Oddly enough, it was the distance from home that proved beneficial to McGuire, he said.

"It was a great experience, growing up away from home," he said. "It was awesome to be in a community where you had to make a name for yourself."

In that sense, it's been an adjustment for McGuire in Vermillion.

Almost in the same way that it would be for any freshman, he's suddenly learning terminology and schemes while guys next to him on the line already have a jump start. McGuire, though, figures to be a fixture on the line for the Coyotes – in a spot to be determined.

"It's been great," he said. "Coach (Joe) Glenn is the kind of coach you want to play for. Coach (Brett) Harvey and coach (Colin) Prosser have really helped me get my technique down."

Even for someone with plenty of Division I experience under his belt, McGuire was also throw into a different style at USD. The offense at Elon was more reliant on pass plays (the Phoenix rushed for 83 yards a game last season), while USD leans more toward the run (144 yards a game last year).

"It's a lot different here;
