ON THIS DATE

75 YEARS AGO

Wednesday, December 9, 1936 About 200 Yankton county farmers, representing practically every section of e county, went on record yesterday afternoon at a meeting at the circuit court room in the court house, as opposed to the action of works progress officials in removing them from projects and certifying them back to the resettlement administration, and practically demanding they be returned to some WPA projects in order to tide them over the trying winter months. Action was started in federal court today by the government to recover on the $2,000 bond posted for the appearance of Lester York, Mitchell who failed to respond when his case was called at the October term. A bench warrant has been issued for York, who is wanted on a charge of violating the United States internal revenue liquor stamping tax law.

Corps of Discovery Welcome Center Extends Silent Auction Fundraiser

The arrival of winter and the first season's snowfall dampened the Taste of Christmas celebration at the Corps of Discovery Welcome Center (CDWC) on Highway 81, three miles south of Yankton.

The Saturday evening event is an annual fundraiser for the CDWC which operates on local funding opportunities, fundraisers and donations. No tax dollars contribute to its day-to-day operation. A silent auction was to be conducted during the evening event to add some to the Center's coiffeurs but bidders were few and far between.

Since the CWDC really depends on the success of their annual fundraisers to continue to operate, the silent auction items will be on display at the Center until Wednesday, Dec. 21. Bidders are also invited to see and bid on the list of items at the website http://corpsofdiscoverywelcomecenter.net/ or by contacting Greg Blumer, CDWC director at 402-667-6557. The winning bids will be announced on Thursday, Dec. 22, and the bidders will be notified at that time also.

Auction items include three baskets with wine, food and lodging at area businesses, pet care, two photo sessions and meals, an ice cream cake, hand-made quilt by a local quilter. Ford Tractor collectible. John Deere apparel, savings bond, buffalo skull, Husker items, oil change, socket set and drill, popular print from local artist, shopping certificates, purse and food certificates.

The CWDC celebrated its tenth anniversary this past summer and are pleased to be serving the travelers along Hwy 81 no matter what season it is. The coffee pot is always on, weather advisories are available, tourist information is free and in the summer months, a nature and bird trail is available for outdoor lovers. The gift gallery is available year round, too. The CDWC also offers educational presentations throughout the

There is an item for just about anybody on a Christmas list and a successful bid will help the CDWC as well as promote area local businesses
