REGION DIGEST

Community Garden Info Meeting On March 1

Healthy Yankton invites everyone interested to attend an informational meeting about Yankton's Community Garden at 5:30 p.m. Monday, March 1, at Avera Sacred Heart Hospital Physician Office Pavilion.

Presentations will be made by master gardeners, with Shan Doerr addressing Plant Diseases and Dean Spader discussing Organic Gardening. Limited free garden seeds will be made available for those attending the meeting.

Following the estimated 30-minute garden overview and educational sessions, those attending will have an opportunity to register on a first-come, first-served basis for garden plots for the 2010 growing season.

For the second straight year, Healthy Yankton offers garden plots, approximately 12 feet X 18 feet in size, for only $15 each. Garden plots at located Marne Creek West Park on Yankton's West City Limits Road. Garden plot pre-registration and pre-payment is required.

Gardeners are required to follow the Community Garden rules, which will be discussed at the meeting, include planting, weeding, monitoring throughout the growing season and cleaning up their designated garden plot after harvesting a bountiful crop for their personal use. Gardeners are encouraged to "grow a row" to donate excess produce to others in need of nutritious garden produce.

For more information call Healthy Yankton Chairman Angie O'Connor at 605-668-8590, or e-mail healthyyankton@gmail.com, or go to www.healthyyankton.org.

Stewart School To Host Concert On Mar. 1

Stewart School students will host their annual concert at 7 p.m. Monday, March 1, at the Summit Activities Center. Students in grades 1-3 will be perform "The Box," a children's musical revue written by Mark Burrows.

Do you remember the days in your childhood when your parents got a new refrigerator or stove? Chances are you don't remember much about the appliance itself but you probably remember all the fun things you did with the box! It became a firetruck, a hospital, a ship. "The Box" celebrates the boundless imagination of children.

The program is accompanied by Dixie Church and directed by Lori Leader. The concert is free to the public.

Parks Advisory Board Meeting On March 1

The Yankton Parks Advisory Board will hold its next meeting at 5:30 p.m. March 1 at Technical Education Center. This meeting is open to the public.

Library To Celebrate Dr. Seuss' Birthday

The Yankton Community Library, 515 Walnut, will celebrate the beloved Dr. Seuss' birthday and Read Across America on Tuesday, March 2. The library will be celebrating all day with birthday cake made by Joyce Brunken. If you've never seen a cake decorated like the hat of "The Cat in the Hat," you'll want to come enjoy a piece.

A special guest reader will be in attendance and in costume from 10-10:30 a.m. and 3:30-4:30 p.m. From 3:30-5:30 p.m., there will be Seussical games, crafts, stories and movies.

For more information, contact the library at 668-5275.

'Stand-Up Economist' Set For USD Tuesday

VERMILLION — The University of South Dakota Department of Economics and Omicron Delta Epsilon chapter welcomes Yoram Bauman, Ph.D., to the Beacom School of Business at 8 p.m. Tuesday, March 2.

Bauman, also known as "The Stand-up Economist," teaches environmental economics at the University of Washington. He integrates comedy show-style humor with current economic issues, including the financial crisis as well as environmental concerns. His unique program will be showcased at the Beacom Hall Auditorium free and open to the public.

The Seattle native began doing stand-up comedy as a graduate student after writing a parody of the "Ten Principles of Economics" and attending open-mic nights at the Comedy Underground, a comedy club in Seattle. Additionally, Bauman is the co-author of a new book, "The Cartoon Introduction to Economics, Volume 1: Microeconomics," and he is the producer of "Non-Profit Comedy," a benefit show that has raised more than $75,000 for Seattle-area non-profit organizations.

ON THIS DATE

75 YEARS AGO

Wednesday, February 27, 1935

• The New Deal marshalled its legal forces today to ward off a blow which – if it should gain the added strength of Supreme Court approval – would topple much of NRA's vast structer into the dust. The blow was the opinion, enunciated by a federal judge ruling that the Constitution did not confer upon Congress the power to regulate manufacture.

• The South Dakota House liquor committee's control bill which was killed in the representative chamber yesterday was resurrected today and sent back to the committee for possible future reference in the closing days of the session.

50 YEARS AGO

Saturday, February 27, 1960

• Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.), leading Senate Southern forces in a bitter filibuster fight against civil rights legislation, voiced doubt today that any compromise is possible. Nor there was talk of compromise from backers of the proposals, as they planned to force the Senate into day after day, round-the-clock sessions starting Monday in an effort to wear out the Dixie contingent in its efforts to talk the legislation to death.

• William J. Bulow, an extraordinary figure in South Dakota politics for nearly two decades as former governor and U.S. senator, died in Washington D.C. at the age of 91.

25 YEARS AGO

Wednesday, February 27, 1985

• Trusties continued their 'takeover' of jobs at the South Dakota Human Services Center this week when 11 employees in the laundry unit were told they would no longer be working there.

• A former anesthesiology student at Mount Marty College has filed a $600,000 lawsuit against the Yankton institution, alleging breach of contract and that the school inflicted emotional distress. MMC officials would not comment on the suit, which was filed Feb. 15.
