This Is What They Waited For

BY JAMES D. CIMBUREK
james.cimburek@yankton.net

As I watched the University of South Dakota pull off its overtime upset of South Dakota State at the DakotaDome Monday night, I saw something I hadn't seen much of before.

No, it wasn't Amber Hegge making plays in a big moment. Having watched her win seven state team championships — four in track, three in basketball — and play for a Division II national basketball title, I've seen what she can do in the clutch.

But I did see her fist-pump after her go-ahead three-pointer in overtime, and that is something I don't see much of.

Hegge is a very focused athlete, though it's not unusual to see her crack a smile when her team is doing well. But fist-pumps on the floor are rare, and that tells me how much she — and the rest of the Coyotes — had invested emotionally in Monday's game.

The same could be said for the Coyote men, who found a way to turn around a 30-point defeat at the hands of the Jackrabbits with their own big victory.

As much as fans from both schools might not want to admit it, having the State-U rivalry back and having both teams win games in the first year could not have been a better way for the rivalry to come back. You saw fans at both schools get excited and show up, especially a USD fan base that had grown lethargic in recent years.

This is what players and fans have been waiting for. And we're glad it's back.

Quaye Signs With CFL Team

EDMONTON — The Edmonton Eskimos have signed free agent defensive lineman Kommonyan "Ko" Quaye.

Born in Monrovia, Liberia and raised in Minnesota, Quaye played his college ball at South Dakota where he posted 99 career tackles, 5.5 sacks and one interception.

The 6-1 300-pound Quaye signed as an undrafted free agent with the NFL's Jacksonville Jaguars in 2010 where he spent five weeks on the practice roster. He was signed by Buffalo and was added to the Bills practice squad. Quaye was signed by Cleveland and was a late cut from their 2011 training camp.

Glenn At QB Club

The Yankton Quarterback Club will meet Wednesday at noon at the Elks Lodge, 504 West 27th Street, Yankton.

This week's speaker is University of South Dakota football coach Joe Glenn. The USD Hall of Famer will talk about his first recruiting class at his alma mater, as well as his storied coaching career. His resume includes national championships at Northern Colorado (Division II, 1996, 1997) and Montana (FCS, 2001), as well as six seasons at the University of Wyoming.

The public is invited to attend.

the final 1:55 to finalize their statement to SDSU and the Summit League with the 59-53 final.

"Everytime we needed a stop, it gave us new wind, and we responded on our end of the floor" said USD's Boss, who blocked five SDSU shots. "We wanted this win and getting tired was not an option."

Hegge, a senior from Crofton, led all scorers with 28 points to go with five assists and continued to display her priceless value to the USD program that has now won eight games in a row.

"We needed her tonight and there she was," Boss said. "She's a big-time senior."

"Amber played great," Williams said. "We go through her and everybody knows it – she came up big."

Yackley had six assists and five steals while Boss had 11 rebounds and eight points.

Young was held to 10 points and was the only Jack to reach double figures.

Though not playing great basketball during their winning streak that has seen them rise to third place in the Summit standings, the Coyotes have found a way to win and improved to 18-6 and 9-5 in the conference.

"This bunch just finds a way to get a win," Williams said. "Our kids believe; they just will not wilt and we're going to believe until the final buzzer."

Only six Coyotes played in the game, but their energy remained until Young's final shot fell short and their fans were able to celebrate.

"We fed off them," Williams said of the DakotaDome crowd. "Our fans were absolutely amazing tonight."

"This maybe is the most fun," Hegge said of the win. "The crowd was amazing, and to do it in overtime just makes it memorable."

The Jacks used their patented 3-ball to build a 31-21 halftime lead.

Though they put up five airballs in the first 20 minutes, Jill Young, who swished twice, Paluch, Leah Dietel, Sunnarborg and Boever each found the bottom of the net from downtown as SDSU still were 6-13 from beyond the arc.

The Coyotes took a 7-2 lead early in the game when Hegge kicked out to Tempestt Wilson for a trey.

However, scoring was difficult for USD as they made just seven of their 26 1st-half shots. Hegge led the way with 11 points, but no other Coyote supported with more than one basket.

The 18-8 Jacks, who had a 9-game winning streak coming in, missed out on a chance to clinch at least a share of the Summit League title, but still lead the league with a 13-2 conference mark.

The Coyotes will play at IUPUI Saturday while the Jacks host NDSU Saturday.

added the ability to get inside the lane and score."

Ronke's shooting ability is well-noted. In her sophomore year Ronke set a school record with 54 three-pointers made in a single season. She also buried seven three-pointers against Platte-Geddes in a game during her sophomore year to hold the single-game three-pointers made record. Overall Ronke has made 169 three-pointers, also a school record. Ronke's hot hand has hit 10 threes in the last two Bon Homme games.

Sutera's scoring ability is nearly the opposite from Ronke's

"Raquel has good size, and great ball-handling ability for her size," Goehring said. "She doesn't force shots, she takes shots that we know will go in."

Sutera's career shooting percentage has hovered around 50 percent, and she has led the team in rebounding every season since her freshman year. Her ball-handling ability and size make for a tough matchup. Many times Sutera will bring the ball up the court against pressure, and then pass the ball off to go post up.

"My very first points were on a shot on the block when we played at Tripp-Delmont," Sutera said. "But my most memorable points were any of them that I scored when we beat Wagner in the district tournament last season."

The excitement of the moment has blurred the memories from Sutera's 1,000th point moment.

"I was very nervous when I shot the ball knowing it could give me 1,000" Sutera said. "After I made it I don't really remember anything, I just remember being excited."

Ronke also felt excitement when she hit the 1,000-point mark.

"My 1,000th point was on a free throw," Ronke said. "After I made it I was very excited knowing I had just gone over 1,000."

Ronke was able to pinpoint her most memorable points ever.

"I hit a last-second three-pointer at the buzzer in Freeman three years ago to force the game into overtime," Ronke said.

Goehring also praised the pair for being exceptional people.

"Both of them are great role models," Goehring said. "The community really looks up to them, as do all of their teammates. They are so unselfish that I know they would be willing to trade any of their accomplishments, such as the 1,000 points, for a trip to the state tournament."

Ronke and Sutera thanked their teammates for aiding them on their journeys to 1,000 points.

"We couldn't have done it without our teammates," Ronke said. "They are a big part of it too."

Bon Homme is currently 14-5 on the season with one regular season game left on Feb. 14 as they host Dakota Valley. The Cavaliers have won six straight games heading into tournament time.
