Southeast Job Link Receives $3,000 Grant Award

Southeast Job Link has received a Yankton Area Community Foundation Grant Award, totaling $3,000 to support technology upgrades for enhanced computer training opportunities and to meet the requirements needed for the new GED® computer-based testing program.

SUBMITTED PHOTO

The grant will be used to equip a technology lab with computer systems that will accommodate computer-based testing needs as a result of recent changes in GED® testing and that will respond to needs for technology education from several areas of the community.

Sheri Duke, Executive Director of Southeast Job Link, who received the check, stated, "We are so very pleased and thankful of the support offered by the Yankton Area Community Foundation, which will allow us to better serve our community and support participants in their educational and literacy needs."

at a time. Being able to upgrade our technology will not only allow us to test a greater number of individuals, but will also permit us to offer upgraded computer training options." The GED® test is changing to help more adults become career and college ready;
