City To Consider Naming Rights Policy

From P&D Staff Reports

The Yankton City Commission will consider a policy today (Monday) regarding sponsorship and naming rights for projects. These issues were raised at a commission meeting last year, and city staff is looking for input on a draft policy. Sponsorship is already allowed for smaller items, such as trees and park equipment, and city staff will seek confirmation from the commission for those policies to continue. New rules are being proposed for sponsorship and naming rights for events and large facilities. In other business Monday, Environmental Services Director Kyle Goodman will update commissioners on efforts under way to improve the city's water treatment system. The commission meeting gets under way at 5:30 p.m. today in the City of Yankton Community Meeting Room at the Technical Education Center, 1200 West 21st St.

City Planning Commission To Meet Today

From P&D Staff Reports

The Yankton City Planning Commission will discuss a draft of a new sign ordinance today (Monday). Also on the agenda is a plat review at 631 Sawgrass Street. The commission meeting gets under way at 5:30 p.m. today in the City of Yankton Community Meeting Room at the Technical Education Center, 1200 West 21st St.

Yankton College Scholarship Deadline Feb. 15

Yankton College scholarships will be awarded this spring for the 2013-14 academic year to college bound students with a Yankton College connection. Applicants must, either, have: • a family relationship to Yankton College alumni, former faculty or staff; • or a family friend, teacher or pastor with a connection to Yankton College recommend the applicant, • or be a Yankton College graduate, former student, faculty or staff. Applications are available at the Yankton College office located at 1801 Summit St., Door No. 9 or online at www.yanktoncollege.org. To receive the financial aid, applications and supporting materials are due no later than Feb. 15. The Yankton College Scholarship Program awards two types of $1,000 scholarships, general and post-graduate, to deserving students to use at an accredited college or university. The goals of the program are to perpetuate the College tradition of liberal arts in higher education, support deserving young persons who have shown outstanding promise, apply discretionary funds to a higher function and promote the memory and reputation of Yankton College. Named scholarships come from the kindness of Yankton College alumni and friends who are inspired by the positive influences of Yankton College. For more information on the Yankton College Scholarship Program, contact Yankton College at (605) 665-3661, Monday through Friday, 8:30 a.m.-4 p.m.

Healthy Yankton Winter Festival Feb. 15-18

The Yankton Parks and Recreation Department announces Friday, Feb. 15, through Monday, Feb. 18, as Healthy Yankton's Winter Festival — four days of fun and inexpensive activities for the whole family throughout Yankton. The Yankton Parks and Recreation Department and Summit Activities Center encourages everyone in the Yankton area to "Get Up and Play" this weekend. A full schedule of activities can be found at: the City website: <http://cityofyankton.org/>, the Healthy Yankton website: <http://www.healthyankton.org/>, the Yankton Parks and Recreation Facebook page or pick up a flyer at the Summit Activities Center. For more information on the weekend of fun activities, contact the Summit Activities Center at 668-5234.

Former WNBA Star Set For Yankton Events

Olympia Scott, a two-time Women's National Basketball Association champion, a United States National Team Gold Medalist, motivational speaker; and author, will be coming to Yankton. Everyone is welcome to hear Scott's message when she presents a free public event at 7 p.m. Friday, Feb. 15, at Mount Marty College's Cyber Café, 1105 West 8th Street, Yankton. There is no fee to participants and pre-registration is not required. Now living in Sioux Falls, Scott's local visit is sponsored by Healthy Yankton. Scott's presentation will focus on her philosophy, "I Can, I Must, I Will" That motto is a motivational tool Scott uses to inspire others to recognize their ability to achieve their goals.

Scott

Scott will also hold free basketball clinics on Saturday, Feb. 16, at the Summit Activities Center, 1801 Summit Street, Yankton. No pre-registration is needed and youth participants are welcome from all throughout the region. Clinics are scheduled from 9-10 a.m. for grades 3-4; from 10 a.m. for grades 5-6, and from 11 a.m.-noon for grades 7-8. Scott's presentations and basketball clinics are one portion of the Healthy Yankton Winter Festival and the Summit Activities Get Up and Play Weekend. There are many free and inexpensive activities offered for persons of all ages to appeal to individuals of different interests and fitness levels. For a full list of weekend activities and more information go to www.healthyankton.org or call Todd Larson at 605-668-5231 or email healthyankton@gmail.com.

• Progressive homemakers who are anxious to keep abreast of the latest developments in kitchen craft will be given a chance to learn what's new in housekeeping next Wednesday when the Press & Dakotan's big cooking school opens at the City Hall auditorium.
• Ernest Hladik, football captain and all-conference tackle at Southern, comes from a family line of athletes as indicated by a news picture which he brought from his home showing his father, Ernest Hladik Sr., along with three of his brothers as star members of a soccer team in the city of Omaha more than 20 years ago.
50 YEARS AGO

• A man arrested for speeding at Lincoln, Neb., Friday night is believed to be the person who took $77.02 from the office of The Toggery in a bold daylight snatch Friday morning. Chief of Police Monty Hauck said that when the theft was reported by Merle Nelson of The Toggery, the man involved fit the general description of Jerry Ohler, Sioux City, Iowa, who is wanted for questioning on similar jobs.
• Dail G. Gibbs, manager of the South Dakota Rural Electric Association, Saturday termed a senate measure authorizing the public utilities to control all electric utilities "a waste of tax money" and an "unnecessary regulation."
Thursday, February 11, 1988
• Two proposals that would have imposed a state income tax were killed by a state Senate committee Wednesday, after opponents said they aren't sure such a tax is needed or supported by South Dakota citizens. The Taxation Committee voted 5-4 to reject both income tax bills, which supporters said are needed to provide relief from unfair sales taxes and skyrocketing local property taxes.
• A new program by the State Bank of Alcester to issue Visa credit cards to Democratic Party contributors will raise money for the party and lend new meaning to the phrase "card-carrying Democrat," a party official said Wednesday. But a leading Republican said his party checked out such a plan and thought it would violate a South Dakota law against corporate contributions to political parties.

USD Law, Beta Alpha Psi Students Offering Volunteer Income Tax Assistance

VERMILLION — Students at the USD School of Law and Beta Alpha Psi are offering free income tax assistance to qualified taxpayers as part of the Volunteer Income Tax Assistance Program (VITA) at the University of South Dakota. "VITA is a free public tax service tool utilized by members of the community. It's a great opportunity for USD student volunteers to give back to the community in such a personable way," said USD second-year law student Trent Arlint, one of three VITA site coordinators that also include Andrew Polzin and Emily Lessin. Site coordinators are responsible for training volunteers, ensuring that each volunteer has passed a certification test, and assisting at each VITA session. VITA sessions are offered throughout the spring semester until April 13 with sessions from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Saturday, Feb. 23, at the School of Law; from 4-8 p.m. on Monday, Feb. 25, in room 225A of the Muenster University Center; from 10 a.m.-5 p.m. on Saturday, April 6, at the School of Law, and from 10 a.m.-5 p.m. on Saturday, April 13, in the Muenster University Center Ballroom. Individuals and families earning up to $50,000 are eligible for the free tax preparation assistance. Currently, 20 student volunteers are involved in the VITA Program, and at least four volunteers are present at each session. Individuals and families attending a VITA session should bring identification, Social Security card(s), tax returns and all other tax documents, including W-2 forms, 1099 forms and Social Security statements. Assistance is offered on a first come, first served basis. VITA is sponsored by the University of South Dakota and all materials are provided by the IRS. Additional resources and support are provided by the American Bar Association and the Student Services Office.
