ON THIS DATE

75 YEARS AGO

Tuesday, February 15, 1938

- With the departure of William L. Van Osdel and family for California there is a vacancy in the commission-ership of police and fire on the Yankton city board which, according to law, is being filled by Mayor Ernest A. Crockett until a successor to Van Osdel is selected.
- This year there will be only one day holiday in the schools of the city during Easter week in order that school may be closed for the school year earlier than was originally planned. This action was taken at a meeting of the board of education held last night when it was voted to hold school all during the week with the exception of Good Friday.

50 YEARS AGO

Friday, February 15, 1963

- It Used To Fit Better! Jay Coates, one of Yankton's oldest pioneers, at the age of 89, sat in one of the old wood-and-iron desks at Central school which are going to be sold first come, first served, on Saturday.
- Plans have been completed for the 3rd annual Yankton Junior High Invitation basketball tournament. The three division affair will be held in Yankton, Saturday, February 23.

Informational Meeting About Medicaid Expansion Set For Feb. 19

A public informational meeting on "Medicaid Expansion: A South Dakota Decision" will be held at noon Tuesday, Feb. 19, at the Roncalli Tuesday South Dining Room on the campus of Mount Marty College in Yankton.

The meeting will be presented by Joy Smolnisky, MA. The research has been compiled by the South Dakota Budget & Policy Project. The meeting will explore who would or wouldn't get health coverage, the cost to South Dakota in both the short and long term, and how health care providers, consumers and small businesses in South Dakota would be affected.

This meeting is open to everyone. It is sponsored by the Yankton Area Chamber of Commerce Governmental Affairs Committee and the Sociology and Psychology departments of Mount Marty College.

Gross, Woerner Enter City Commission Race

From P&D Staff Reports

Charlie Gross and Brad Woerner turned in their nominating petitions this week, ensuring there will be an April 9 municipal election.

Gross has served on the City Commission for more than 18 years.

Meanwhile, Woerner is currently wrapping up his first three-year term on the commission.

Gross and Woerner are the fourth and fifth candidates to enter the race for three open seats on the City Commission.

They join Brooke Blaaid, Chris Ferdig and Edward Gleich.

The deadline for filing a nominating petition is 5 p.m. Feb. 22. The deadline for voter registration is March 25.

NPPD Hosting Energy Resource Meetings

COLUMBUS, Neb. — Representatives from Nebraska Public Power District (NPPD) will be in Norfolk and York, Feb. 18-19, respectively, from 4-7 p.m. to review preliminary results of the District's Integrated Resource Plan (IRP).

The Norfolk meeting will be held at Divots Conference Center, 4200 W Norfolk Ave., Norfolk. The session in York will be held at the Holiday Inn, Highway 81/4169 S. Lincoln Ave., York.

The plan is a 20-year look ahead at what types of energy resources may be used to economically and reliably meet the electrical needs of the approximately 600,000 Nebraskans served by NPPD.

The public meetings in Norfolk and York are the third and fourth meetings in a series of four public IRP-related meetings that NPPD is holding across the state. Other meetings were in Gering on Feb. 5 and North Platte on Feb. 7.

Completed in five-year intervals, the IRP is an economic planning tool, helping NPPD to protect customers from cost volatility while maintaining reliable electric service.

The IRP identifies, under present and foreseeable conditions, the preferred mix of power generation resources (including renewable energy like wind power) and energy efficiency programs to meet forecasted energy needs of NPPD's customers.

The public is asked to attend, at their convenience, at any time throughout the meeting. It should take about 15 minutes to go through the information NPPD is presenting; however, more time can be taken, if needed. Public comment is a welcome and important part of the IRP process.

For more information about NPPD, its energy efficiency programs, and to read the draft Integrated Resource Plan in its entirety, go to www.nppd.com.

Outlaw Trail Scenic Byway To Meet Tuesday

The Outlaw Trail Scenic Byway will meet via teleconference call at 7 p.m. Tuesday, Feb. 19.

Agenda items include: Omaha Sports show, Feb. 21-24; Lynch Trail ride, April 27-28; plans for the "See the Quiltway the Byway," Oct. 11-13, and Outlaw Trail Scenic Byway annual meeting, April 16.
