SDHC Seeks 'One Book' Tour Applicants

BROOKINGS — Cultural and community organizations throughout South Dakota have a unique opportunity to hear directly from the 2013 One Book South Dakota author.

Danielle Sosin, author of 2013 One Book South Dakota "The Long-Shining Waters," will tour the state in the months leading up to her appearance at the South Dakota Festival of Books (www.sdbookfestival.com). The South Dakota Humanities Council invites communities in South Dakota to host their own private book discussion with the One Book author.

Sosin, a Duluth, Minn. resident and past Festival of Books presenter, will make four week-long book tours throughout the state. These tours will take her to one region of the state each month, beginning in June and culminating in her keynote appearance at the 2013 Festival of Books in Deadwood Sept. 20-22.

In "The Long-Shining Waters," Sosin weaves an intricate tale revolving around Lake Superior. The book's content provides numerous opportunities for discussion of the 2013 SDHC programming theme of water, along with many other issues.

To apply, visit www.sdhumanities.org/onebooktours.htm.

L&C Theatrical Gala At Minervas Saturday

The Lewis & Clark Theatre Co. will present its 2013 Theatrical Gala on Saturday, Feb. 16, at Minervas in Yankton.

The gala will once again feature Yankton's version of "The Late Show with David Letterman," featuring Chris Hilson and the Mike Hilson Band. The show, directed by Terry Winter, will feature local talent.

Doors open at 6 p.m. with a cash bar and hors d'oeuvres. For ticket information, call 665-4711.

Mead Open House Slated For Feb. 16

The Yankton County Historical Society and Dakota Territorial Museum will be hosting an Open House from 1-3 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 16, at the Mead Building.

The event will give interested people a chance to tour the building before it is closed to the public for about a year during Phase 2. Everyone is asked to gather first at the South Training Center (the former Old Chapel) which is just southeast of the Mead Building.

The event will include a presentation at 1:30 p.m., at which time Steve Kunkel of Stonebrook Roofing, Inc., will be making a donation to the project. There will be light refreshments and displays that will give a look at the progress that has been made and a look to the future. Visitors can then walk over to Mead for a chance to look around.

If you have any questions, contact the Dakota Territorial Museum at 605-665-3898, or stop by at 610 Summit Street, across from Avera Sacred Heart Hospital.

Concert Association Show Sunday At SAC

Yankton Area Concert Association presents Celtic Feast, the next concert of the season, at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 16, at the YHS/Summit Activities Center theatre.

The concert series is sold out for this season, but officials are starting membership renewals. If you would like to be on a wait list or desire more information, call Betts Pulkrabek at (605) 463-2206.

YCTC To Host Benefit Soup Kitchen Monday

The Yankton Children's Theatre Co. will hold a President's Day Soup Kitchen Fundraiser on Monday, Feb. 18, at the Yankton Elks Lodge, 504 W 27th Street. It runs from 11 a.m.-7 p.m.

The menu will include taverns, egg salad, hot dogs, soups, desserts, coffee, tea and lemonade.

Proceeds of the soup kitchen help to support the productions and programs offered by the Yankton Children's Theatre Company. For more information, contact Jill Paulson at jillmarie7276@yahoo.com or visit www.yanktonchildrenstheatre.org.

Tyndall Gallery Now Hosting Quilt Show

TYNDALL — Area quilters are displaying their handmade creations now at the Art & Antique Gallery in Tyndall for the third annual Quilt Show now running through Feb. 23. Quilters from Springfield, Scotland, Yankton, Dante, Tabor, Omaha and Tyndall have worked on sun-bonnet sues, scrappity do dah, Irish chain, watercolor, hand-applique and many more designs throughout the year to prepare for this show. Several vintage quilts are also displayed, along with an interesting pin-cushion display.

Everyone is welcome to stop in and view the quilts Wednesdays through Saturdays from 9:30 a.m.-5:30 p.m. The show is free for all.

An open house and social will be held on Saturday, Feb. 23, running from 1:30 p.m. in the afternoon. At 3 p.m., quilters will be able to take their quilts home.

If there are questions, contact the Art & Antique Gallery (605-589-4050), email: dakotaprairie@hinet.net or see us on Facebook "Tyndall's Art & Antique Gallery."

YANKTON GFWC

The Yankton Chapter of GFWC Woman's Club met Feb. 2, 2013, at 11 a.m. at Hillcrest Golf & Country Club. President Pauline Aklund called the meeting to order. The Pledge of Allegiance, South Dakota Pledge and Collect for Women were given.

Guests: Denise Erickson introduced Claudia Schumacher. President Pauline announced February is Chocolate Lovers month, Dating Violence Awareness and Library Lovers month. Our special guest today is GFWC State President Linda Dadds.

Leadership: Joyce Franklin presented the program on becoming a salesperson to sell our product GFWC Woman's Club. Joyce then read the history of Yankton GFWC written by Nancy Burgess. On Jan. 12, 1895, "The Nineteenth Century Club" was organized with 125 charter members, age 18 or older. Their chosen motto "Hold Things in Their Proportion." Mrs. Flora Swift's daughter went to Boston to study music where she met Miles Standish. When he came to claim his bride his mother accompanied him to Yankton. Her enthusiasm for club work in "SOROSIS," began in New York in 1890, later became GFWC Woman's Club. Our first president was Mrs. Swift who organized the club. Programs were consisted of book reviews, lectures, plays and special music programs. The pioneer women raised money to build and establish the first churches, public school, promoted lectures and concerts in Yankton. They assisted the Red Cross during the two world wars. During World War II the women were urged to sell bonds, and from 1941-1944, 110 members raised $6794, and at the end of the campaign $294,192 was raised by GFWC Woman's Club by the state of South Dakota to buy a medium bomber and a fighter plane. Through the years the Yankton club supported many projects and donated money to many non profit organizations. In 1985 we adopted the name change to GFWC Yankton Federated Woman's Club. Nancy Burgess was the State President of GFWC 1978-1980, she went on to chair GFWC Resolutions Committee. Very interesting.

Joan Neubauer made a motion to approve the minutes of the January meeting. Seconded by Judy Olson. Dot Blaha gave the treasurer's report. We have 62 paid members. We sent $500 to Heifer International to purchase a share of a heifer, a goat, share of rabbits, a pig, 2 flocks of chicks, and 2 flocks of ducks/geese. The report will be filed pending audit. Secretary Ellen Rodenberg read a thank you for our clubs monetary donation to the contact center and food pantry.

Program: Chris Wilkinson of the National Park & Missouri Recreational River Service gave a very good report. He is the Chief of Interpretation Education. There are 2 parts of the Missouri River from Gavins Point Dam to Ponca, Neb., is 59 miles and from Ft. Randall Dam to Running Water, including the Niobrara River is 39 miles. He outlined the 4 criteria to be considered a National Park. The Missouri River is an outstanding example of a river system. It is the longest river in the world. An outstanding recreation is the S.D. Kayak Challenge from Riverside Park to Sioux City, Iowa, totaling 72 river miles. The dams have greatly altered the river. By banning DDT there are now 10,000 nesting bald eagles. They are in the process of building a mobile ranger station to travel to schools and special groups.

President Pauline announced the luncheon, dessert, style show will be March 23 from 11:30 a.m.-2 p.m. at The Center. Tickets are now for sale at $15 each, and we are in need of members to sign up for salads and desserts. She reminded members to attend the Citizen of the Year reception on March 3 at the Elks Lodge for Vi and Dr Brooks Ranney.

Bingo: Barb Law, Felda Trout, Arlene Young and Pauline Aklund assisted residents at Majestic Bluffs in January. State President Linda Dadds stated she is traveling the state to meet club members. She congratulated Sally Welter for being in the top 3 in the nation for GFWC volunteers. The State Convention is April 19-21 in Huron, donations will be accepted for the Alzheimers Foundation. Peggy Schiedel said there

Franzen Promoted At First Dakota Bank

Larry Ness, chief executive officer of First Dakota National Bank of Yankton, has announced the promotion of Nate Franzen to President of the Agri-Business Division.

Franzen has 19 years of banking experience, the last 15 of which have been with First Dakota. He has managed First Dakota's Agri-Business Division for the last three years, and with this promotion, he also joins the Bank's Executive Management Team. "Providing financing and other banking solutions to the agricultural community is a large part of our business," states Ness. "Nate's leadership has helped us continue to expand our commitment and service to agriculture across the state and region."

Nate, and his wife Michelle, live in rural Yankton with their children Bailey and Kellen. First Dakota was founded in 1872 and holds the first bank charter issued in all of Dakota Territory. It has 16 full-service banking locations in 14 South Dakota cities. It also has six loan production offices throughout South Dakota and Nebraska.

Jons Honored On ROCS Retirement

LAKE ANDES — The Rural Office of Community Services, Inc. in Lake AnDES recently said goodbye to Transit Director Winnie Jo Jons who has retired after 44 years in Community Action.

Jons, who lives in Bonesteel, began her career at ROCS as a Homemaker, taking care of clients in their homes. From there, she worked with the Office on Aging and helped start some of the Agency's many Elderly Nutrition Sites. She was instrumental in opening both the Elderly Nutrition Sites and creating and expanding the Public Transportation Program. For the past several years, she has been the ROCS Transit Director administering the Public Transportation program. She has worked closely with the Transit Committees in many south eastern and south central South Dakota communities to operate, improve and enhance their public transportation programs.

In honor of her long-standing career of service and dedication, Gov. Dennis Daugaard declared Dec. 29, 2012 Winnie Jo Jons Day in South Dakota. Jons received an Executive Proclamation from the Office of the Governor to commemorate her special day.

"We are proud of all Winnie Jo has accomplished and wish her the best in her retirement," said ROCS Executive Director Deb Cahoy.

Velda Bentson was hired as the ROCS Transit Director. Bentson had been the Deputy Transit Director at ROCS and the Yankton Transit Director.
