cate program and other volunteering I do, I usually help out 10-15 hours each week," he said.

Hames volunteers his time at Sacred Heart despite not graduating from the school. He was raised in Crofton and moved to Yankton in 1965. He lived in Yankton for a few years, before moving to other places. He and his wife, Irene, moved back to Yankton in 1998 for retirement, and he has been volunteering at Sacred Heart ever since.

Hames first became involved with St. Benedict's by serving on the parish council and finance committee in 2001.

"In addition to his volunteer contributions, he is also a man of strong faith and participates in a number of ministries at St. Benedict's Parish," said Tim McCaffrey director of development at Sacred Heart. "During all of his generous service to Sacred Heart School and the Yankton Catholic community, he demonstrates all the attributes of a true Catholic steward — he is patient, persistent, dedicated, humble and generous."

Hames said he enjoys the work he does and is honored to be receiving the Hall of Fame recognition.

"I really enjoy the sense of appreciation I get for the work I'm doing, and I get that feeling from people around here," Hames said. "I get a lot of 'thank yous' for volunteering, and that's a good feeling."
