• A report was received at 8:15 a.m. Wednesday of a two-vehicle accident in the Yankton High School parking lot.

INCIDENTS
• A report was received at 11:05 a.m. Wednesday of vandalism to property in the 2100 block of Broadway by three juveniles.
• A report was received at 6:07 p.m. Tuesday that two dogs attacked the complainant's dog in Memorial Park. The pet was badly injured and taken to the vet. The attackers were last seen heading eastbound on 19th St.

CRIME STOPPERS
Anyone wishing to report anonymous information on unlawful activity in the City of Yankton or in Yankton County is encouraged to contact the Crime Stoppers tip line at 665-4440.

USD To Host Building Bridges Conference

VERMILLION — The 16th annual Building Bridges Conference at the University of South Dakota, "Stand Tall, Look Good, Be Proud: BE STRONG IN YOUR POWER," will feature activities and a keynote address by Steve Saffron, former director of American Indian Programs at Scottsdale Community College, on Friday, March 15, in the ballroom of the Muenster University Center.

Saffron of Phoenix, Ariz., will lead the conference with a focus on "using positive strategies for finding support and achieving goals." Saffron's career in Indian education began as a counselor and assistant principal at Alchey High School in White River, Ariz. He continued to work in Mesa Public Schools as a counselor to students from the Salt River Indian community, and was eventually chosen by the Salt River Indian Education Department as the director of American Indian Programs at Scottsdale Community College. Saffron was recently honored with the "Devoted and Distinguished Service Award" for more than 20 years of educational service to the Salt River Pima/Maricopa Indian Community. His presentation is sponsored by the USD Clinical Psychology Program/BRIDGES Conference Committee and the Center for Excellence in Minority Health and Health Disparities.

The 16th Building Bridges Conference begins at 8:30 a.m. with the opening ceremony by Gene Thin Elk, director of Native American Student Services at USD. The Building Bridges Information Fair will take place concurrently with the conference in the East Lounge of the Muenster University Center where representatives from several USD academic departments and student support services will be available to share information about their programs. More information, including registration information and a conference agenda, is available by visiting www.usd.edu/bridges.

Building Bridges provides opportunities for students, counselors, and faculty to learn effective ways to make higher education a positive experience for all students, but especially for Native students. For more information, please contact the Clinical Psychology Program/BRIDGES Conference Committee at (605) 677-5353 or e-mail bridges@usd.edu.

• A drive through St. Helena may not take much time, but what the peaceful Nebraska village lacks in size, it makes up with spirit. This year, if a birthday cake were to be baked for the town, it would have to be a large one to accommodate the 130 candles needed for a celebration.
• Applied Engineering, a precision machining company that opened its doors in Yankton only three years ago, announced today a $1.2 million expansion that could result in 40 new jobs.

50 YEARS AGO

Wednesday, February 27, 1963
• The house county, municipal and military affairs committee killed Tuesday night a bill to permit municipalities to enact Sunday blue laws. The measure, tabled in closed committee session on a 6-5 vote, would have permitted cities and towns to enact a law to prohibit Sunday sale of goods or merchandise within their corporate limits or within a two-mile radius.
• The House Education Committee Tuesday night killed a bill that would have prohibited spending public funds or time of faculty members in recruiting athletes and scholars for board of regents institutions of higher learning.
