Mead Update

SUBMITTED PHOTO

Ben Brunick continues at a steady pace in the woodshop on the windows. Project manager Gregg Homstad has been working on removal of more paint, when the temperature permits it. The view of the old campus sure has changed since this picture in 1935. It's amazing sometimes to see just how much the Mead Building really stands out. Check out the newly launched website dedicated to the project — www.meadbuilding.org. This website has the newly created Gregg's List of tools and supplies that are needed at the Mead Building. It also allows monetary donations to be made online, and has a great photo gallery where you can see historic and construction pictures of the project. Please contact the museum for more information or if you have questions about the project. The Dakota Territorial Museum is located at 610 Summit Street (in Westside Park), and we are on Facebook. Museum hours are Noon-4pm seven days a week. Don't forget the Brown Bag Program at noon today (Friday) in the Dakota Territorial Museum Conference Room about 135th Anniversary of the South Dakota Human Services Center.

The Waiting Room, Omaha, Neb., 9 p.m.
