USD's Grove Earns Summit

League Honors

ELMHURST, Ill. — South Dakota pole vaulter Emily Grove was named the Summit League women's Indoor Track Athlete of the Week in a league release on Tuesday. It's the first time this season and second time in her career that she has earned the honor.

South Dakota will compete at the USD Open and the USA Indoor Track and Field Championships this weekend. Both meets start on Friday.

Western Illinois' Nathaniel Marshall earned men's honors. The Bushnell, Ill., native claimed the weight throw title at the Monmouth College Fighting Scots Indoor Invitational with a toss of 67-9, ranking tops in the league and tied for 18th nationally.

Track & Field: USD Women

Ranked 14th

VERMILLION — The South Dakota's women's track and field team is ranked 14th in the nation according to the most recent U.S. Track and Field/Cross Country Coaches Association (USTFCCCA) team computer rankings released on Tuesday.

The Coyotes moved up 19 spots from last week and have 46.62 points in the rankings. They are the second-best mid-major in the rankings, and rank better than 14 ACC programs, 10 Big Ten teams, nine Big 12 programs and eight SEC teams.

USD is also 83 spots better than the next best Summit League program. North Dakota State is 97th in the rankings with 0.94 points.
