MMC Trap Shooting Team Receives Grant

The Mount Marty College club trap shooting team recently received grant funds from the MidwayUSA Foundation, a public charity providing financial support to youth shooting teams through its Team Endowment Account Program. The grant money will help pay for team expenses, such as ammunition, targets, entry fees, travel and more.

The Mount Marty College club trap shooting team began in March of 2014 and was the first institution of higher education in South Dakota to introduce the sport at the collegiate level. The club team consists of men and women shooters and holds their practices and local competitions at the Jim River Trap Range in Yankton.

Grants totaling over $1.4 million were sent to 475 youth shooting teams in this most recent grant cycle. Teams are eligible to apply for a grant once per year and can grow their Team Endowment Account through soliciting private donations, which are matched 1:1, earnings, and conducting fundraisers. The MidwayUSA Foundation also offers items to active teams to use as fundraisers, such as unique firearms, optics, and knives. Over 2,000 shooting teams across the country have money in their Team Endowment Account.

SDSU's Waytashek Named To Capital One Second Team

BROOKINGS — South Dakota State senior Megan Waytashek was selected to the Capital One Academic All-America® Second Team Thursday, becoming the seventh Jackrabbits women's basketball student-athlete to earn academic honors.

A native of Lino Lakes, Minn., Waytashek was named to the squad after compiling a 3.97 GPA in mechanical engineering. The guard/forward, who has scored in double digits in 20 games and has 5 20-plus point games this season, leads the Jackrabbits in scoring (14.1), three-point field goal shooting (39.4) and steals (3.2). The two-time Summit League First Team All-Summit League, Waytashek was twice named to The Summit League All-Academic Team, honored three times as a Summit League Distinguished Scholar on the league's academic honor roll and to the Commissioner's List of Academic Excellence.

Waytashek spent this past summer as an undergraduate research assistant at SDSU, co-authoring ASME IMECE 2014 Conference Paper "Material property testing of PLA specimen 3d printed on an entry-level 3d printer".
