ELMHURST. III. — South Dakota senior Amber Heage has been named the Summit League Player of the Week in women's basketball, the league announced on Tuesday. The award is the third of the season for Hegge.

Hegge (Crofton, Neb.) had a pair of outstanding games in leading the Coyotes to a pair of Summit League home wins last week. SDGA Hall To Induct Two

I feel I have a little connection to the 2012 class of the Mount Marty College Lancer Athletic Hall of Fame, which will be presented Saturday and inducted on May 6.

It's not just because I was part of the selection process, a first for me. (As my good friend and former colleague would say, that just means I'm getting old.)

Two of the athletes, Teresa (Ellis) Jensen and Jason Selchert, were athletes at MMC during my time there as a student. Jensen was the setter on what was probably the best volleyball team MMC has put together, as well as a quality guard on the basketball court. Selchert was a powerhouse in both baseball and basketball, Coincidentally, the player ranked at number three for 3-pointers per game under Hart and Forsch is Kristen Conahan from Concordia (Neb.), a fellow GPAC school. Conahan has made 63

three's in 19 games, averaging 3.32 per game According to the latest NAIA top 25 poll, it's no surprise that the GPAC boasts so many highly ranked individuals. Monday's poll includes five ranked teams and two

The last game between league rivals DWU and Mount Marty on Dec. 14 in Mitchell resulted in a 74-56 MMC win, and coach Christensen is hoping for a different outcome this time around.

'The worst game we played all this year is when we played Mount Marty. We didn't show up and we weren't ready to play," Christensen said. "I would like to think Wednesday night we will have a little more emotion, a little more energy, and ready to play.'
