NDSU Hoops Team Loses Leading Scorer For 4-6 Weeks

FARGO, N.D. (AP) — The leading scorer for the North Dakota State University men's basketball team will be out four to six weeks with a broken foot.

The Forum newspaper reports (http://bit.ly/SxSyMa) that Taylor Braun broke a bone in his right foot Saturday in NDSU's win over Oakland. Coach Saul Phillips says it might have happened when Braun's foot landed on something — possibly the foot of a television cameraman on the sidelines — or when he made a hard cut. Phillips says he hopes Braun will be back for the Summit League tournament in early March. The Bison are 15-3 and 6-0 in the conference heading into this week's games against Indiana-Purdue-Indianapolis on Thursday and Western Illinois on Saturday.
