

Mickelson Honored

SUBMITTED PHOTO

Ted Mickelson, Yankton, has been nominated into the Omega Tau Rho Fraternity by the South Dakota Association of REALTORS® in recognition of his leadership skills during a ceremony held at the REALTOR® Convention of the Dakotas, a joint state convention between the North Dakota and South Dakota Associations' of REALTORS®. Created in 1950, the honorary fraternity OTR, which is represented by the Medallion of Service, has been awarded by state and local associations of REALTORS® to members who meet specific criteria. Once a medallion is awarded, the recipient is a member for life and does not receive the award again. "This award is truly an honor as it marks exemplary dedication and services of our member to their organization," said Gayle Chapel, President of the South Dakota Association of REALTORS®. "We recognize and thank Ted Mickelson, of Anderson Realty, for his 40 years of membership with the South Dakota Association of REALTORS®, which his nomination to Omega Tau Rho is based on," added Chapel. Ted Mickelson was honored and presented the Omega Tau Rho Medallion of Service award during the annual meeting of the Lewis & Clark Board of REALTORS®.

January is National Mentoring Month! As we thank the many mentors in our program for all they do for the young youth in our program, we also look for others that can help mentor the other 49 percent of youth still waiting for their OWN mentor! Is it you?

Big Friend Little Friend has served youth since 1977. We currently have 63 youth in our program, with 33 of them matched with a caring adult.

Few bonds in life are more influential than those between a young person and an adult.

As you begin your journey toward becoming a mentor, you will need to thoroughly understand the role of mentoring. Look at a role you are already familiar with. Most of us have had a supervisor, a boss or coach who has made a positive difference in our lives. Those people were many hats. They acted as delegators, role models, cheerleaders, policy enforcers, advocates and friends. As a mentor, you will wear these same hats.

Mentors understand the need to assume a number of different roles during the course of a mentoring relationship, but successful mentors also share the same basic qualities:

- A sincere desire to be involved with a young person.
- Respect for young people.
- Active listener.
- Empathy.
- See solutions and opportunities.
- Be flexible and open.

As you and your mentee begin your relationship, exploring values, interests and goals, you will find yourself making a difference and having a positive effect on their life. What you may also be surprised to see is that you will be learning more about yourself too. Mentoring does not just affect the young person. Mentoring is a shared opportunity for learning and growth. Many mentors say that the rewards they gain are as substantial as those for their mentees. Being a mentor enables them to:

- Have fun.
- Achieve personal growth, learn more about themselves.
- Improve their self-esteem and feel they are making a difference.
- Gain a better understanding of other cultures and develop a greater appreciation for diversity.
- Feel more productive and have a better attitude at work.
- Enhance their relationships with their own children.

Good mentors are willing to take time to get to know their mentees, to learn new things that are important to the young person, and even to be changed by their relationship. Accept the challenges and rewards of mentoring a young person and experience the benefits that will last each of you a lifetime.

ST. CLOUD STATE UNIVERSITY

ST. CLOUD, Minn. — St. Cloud State University has announced the names of more than 1,000 students whose academic achievement placed them on the 2013 fall semester dean's list. To be eligible for the honor, students must have a grade point average of 3.75 or higher on a 4.0 scale.

Among them is Emily Holoch,
College of Liberal Arts, Studio Art, Vermillion.

St. Cloud State University is Minnesota's second-largest university, with nearly 17,000 students from 80 different nations. Students choose from more than 60 graduate study programs and more than 200 majors, minors and pre-professional programs that hold nearly every available national accreditation. The 100-acre campus is located about an hour northwest of Minneapolis along the banks of the Mississippi River.
