Project Manager Gregg Homstad is pictured here removing some of the bad plaster from the ceiling in the foyer. Due to heavy water damage there are several areas where the plaster needs to be removed and reconstructed using techniques similar to the way it was originally done. If you are interested in helping with the Mead Building project, please let us know. We have many avenues of support for you to get involved with — everything from purchasing windows for naming rights to a tool and supply wish list created by our project manager. Please contact the museum for more information, online at dakotaterritorialmuseum.org, or if you have questions about the Mead Project. The Dakota Territorial Museum is located at 610 Summit Street (in Westside Park), and we are on Facebook. Museum hours are noon-4 p.m. seven days a week. Watch for further information about the launch of a website dedicated solely to the Mead Building Project.

MOUNT MARTY COLLEGE
Center for Active Learners

Hadyn's Creation
 Dates: Tuesdays - Feb 4, 11, 18, 25
 Time: 10:00 am - 11:30 am
 Location: Bede 237
 Instructor: Dr. Kenneth Tice

Come explore Hadyn's great oratorio as we dive into the score of the well-known classical masterwork. This class will go through the entire work, starting with an overall introduction and understanding of the piece on a large scale.

Dr. Tice is chair of the Music Department and Director of Choral Activities at Mount Marty College. He conducts choirs and teaches various classes in music, voice, and music education. He is also the founder and Artistic Director of the Mount Marty Choral Union.

Cosmology: From the Big Bang to the Present and Beyond...
 Dates: Thursdays - Feb 6, 13, 20, 27
 Time: 1:00 pm - 2:30 pm
 Location: Library 205
 Instructor: Dr. Ryan Maderak

How was the universe formed, how has it evolved since then, and what is its fate? We will discuss cosmology, the study of the evolution of our universe.

Dr. Ryan Maderak, Assistant Professor of Physics, joined the Mount Marty faculty in 2012.
