

What Women Need to Know.

Women's Health Care Trends

Trend: Helping people do all they can at home is the goal of home health care. And the need for home health care is a growing trend that may one day affect you. Whether making decisions for a parent, or talking to your children about your own desires to stay home and avoid nursing home care, you're part of a growing group of people who recognize and prefer the value of home care.

Clinic Facts: Our physicians team with families to secure services through our clinic's Home Care. We can help you access the services you need and our professionals will help you understand costs and coverage by Medicare/Medicaid or health insurance. Many home health services are reimbursable, with nurses on call 24/7. For peace of mind, more and more seniors are letting decision-making family members know about their preferences for independence and care at home.
