USD Hosts High School Honors Choir Concert

VERMILLION — The University of South Dakota and the South Dakota American Choral Director's Association will present the 38th annual School Honors Choir Concert at 7:30 p.m. on Friday, July 29, at Sagle Auditorium on the USD campus.

Under the direction of guest conductor Dr. Brad Holmes, Millikin University, 150 of South Dakota's best high school choral musicians will perform several classical and contemporary musical selections, including Handel's "Lift Your Voice With Joy and Thanksgiving," J.P. Sweetling's "Psalm 96," Roelof Temmingh's "Himne" and "Exulte Justi" by Brant Adams. USD Professor of Music Dr. Susan Keith Gray will serve as accompanist for the performance, which is the first choral concert in the recently renovated Sagle Auditorium.

Hundreds of students from across the state auditioned for the South Dakota All State Honors Choir. Students chosen for the choir will begin six days of rehearsal on Sunday, July 24 at the Muenster University Center Ballroom. Activities throughout the week for the 150-member choir include a dance, talent show, movies and a barbecue.
