Sage Earns Rank Of Eagle Scout

Zachary Sage of Boy Scout Troop 102 was awarded the rank of Eagle Scout at a special ceremony held at the First United Methodist Church in Yankton, this summer.

To earn Boy Scouting's highest award, Zachary needed to earn 21 merit badges, serve as a leader in his troop, and give leadership to others by completing a major community service project.

For his service project, Zachary worked with the South Dakota State Parks Department of Game, Fish, and Parks to locate, repair, replace, and add 23 Blue Bird houses, 11 Wood Duck houses and several squirrel houses to the Lewis & Clark Recreation Area. He then GPS mapped the locations of the bird houses and designed brochures that gave the GPS coordinates. The brochures are available for the public at the campgrounds.

Zachary joined Cub Scouts (Pack 102) in 2000. He worked through the ranks and earned his Tiger, Bobcat, Wolf, Bear, and Webelos badges. After earning his Arrow of Light, he crossed over into Boy Scouts and joined Troop 102 in 2005. As a Scout,

Cowman To Give Keynote Address

VERMILLION — Tim Cowman, director of The University of South Dakota's Missouri River Institute, will deliver the keynote address at the 43rd Lewis and Clark Trail Heritage Foundation Annual Meeting on Monday, Aug. 1 in Omaha, Neb.

Cowman

As part of the Foundation's annual meeting July 30 through Aug. 3, Cowman is one of several speakers and presenters. His presentation, "Changes in the Missouri River Valley Landscape between Yankton and Omaha since the Lewis and Clark Expedition," will address the early origins of the Missouri River and its physical changes in the last 200 years. Cowman, who has served as director of the Missouri River Institute since 2007, will also discuss how the cultural aspects of the river have changed since Lewis and Clark's journey.

"USD is fortunate to have such an important research resource as the Missouri River Institute," said Laura Jenki, vice president of research at USD. "The Institute's research helps facilitate understanding of the short-term and long-term consequences of the current flooding and makes predictions regarding future flooding."

Water Quality Project Applications Being Accepted

PIERRE — The South Dakota Department of Environment and Natural Resources (DENR) is accepting applications through Oct. 1, 2011, for projects eligible for federal Clean Water Act, Section 319 nonpoint source control grants.

DENR officials anticipate approximately $2 million will be available for projects in South Dakota. The federal Environmental Protection Agency grants require 40 percent local match.

Eligible applicants include governmental agencies; state government subdivisions, such as conservation districts, water development districts, counties and municipalities; universities; certain nonprofit organizations; and federally recognized Indian tribes. Other groups may participate by applying through one of the eligible entities as a project partner.

Section 319 of the federal Clean Water Act provides grants to reduce water pollution from nonpoint sources, such as polluted runoff from urban, agricultural, and forest lands. DENR historically has used the Section 319 funds primarily to develop and implement projects designed to reduce nonpoint source pollution to meet Total Maximum Daily Loads (TMDLs). South Dakota water bodies in need of TMDLs are listed in the 2010 Integrated Report for Surface Water Quality Assessment. A copy of the report is available from the DENR website at <http://denr.sd.gov> and at libraries throughout the state.

Nonpoint source pollution originates from many sources, including heavily fertilized lawns, urban runoff that carries street and pet wastes, agricultural fields, small livestock operations, and natural sources, such as highly erosive soils. The primary nonpoint source pollutants in South Dakota are sediment, phosphorus, nitrogen, and fecal coliform bacteria.

Entities interested in applying for Section 319 grant funds by the Oct. 1 deadline are encouraged to contact DENR at (605) 773-5623 or obtain application guidance at <http://denr.sd.gov/dfta/wp/319.aspx>.
