NPS Bridge Walk Programs Set

National Park Rangers from Missouri National Recreational River will be at the Territorial Capitol replica in Yankton's Riverside Park from 10 a.m.-4 p.m. this week to answer questions about the river and provide information to visitors and the community.

A new exhibit now on display shows some of the "outstandingly remarkable values" that led Congress to designate these segments of the Missouri as a recreational river under the Wild and Scenic Rivers Act. Rangers will also conduct walks to the historic Meridian Bridge and present short talks on a variety of subjects. The walks will begin at the Territorial Capitol replica at 11:30 a.m., 12:30 p.m. and 3 p.m. Upon reaching the bridge, the talks will last no more than 15 minutes, after which visitors may continue across the bridge, return to downtown Yankton, or chat with the ranger on the way back to the capitol. In the event of heat warnings or rain, talks will be given in the capitol building.

- Monday, July 30: "Not Just a River" — The National Park Service protects not just the Missouri River, but many other natural and cultural resources associated with the river. Discover the "outstandingly remarkable values" that led Congress to create the Missouri National Recreational River.
- Tuesday, July 31: "Then and Now" — The Missouri River, its users, and uses have changed over the centuries. What does this mean for the river in our future?
- Wednesday, Aug. 1: "Crossing the Mighty

Mo" — The wild Missouri was both a means of travel and an obstacle to it. Learn how fickle fortune and the river itself stood in the way of bridge building.

- Thursday, Aug. 2: "The Missouri River: Connecting the Past and the Future" — How has the Missouri River changed and been changed over the centuries? What will the river be like in the future? Walk with a ranger and discover what changes and what remains the same.
- Friday, Aug. 3: "Invasion!" — They're not from outer space, just other parts of the earth. But these species pose a serious threat to our lakes, rivers, and national park. Learn the true nature of the threat they pose and what we can do to stop them.

country have turned out, but the few that I've worked with and seen have not had great results," he stated. "What you end up with is a few native grasses and a few native flowers, and a lot of weeds. People aren't sure if it's a weed patch or native. In the end, 10 years down the road and a couple of burn-offs, expectations have not been met at Rotary Park."

Taking a different approach, Larson said the city has now planted buffalo grass in the park, which is native to the area.

"You don't need to water it, which is great since that park is not irrigated," he stated. "You maybe have to mow it three times a year. It stays short so people can walk through it, and it is inviting."

KYB, a non-profit that seeks to engage individuals in local community improvement and environmental projects, agreed to become involved in the effort and secured a $5,000 grant from the Lowe's Charitable and Educational Foundation to assist with its execution. The Rotary Club is also involved.

The funds will assist with the native wildflower educational area. Besides the buffalo grass, it will feature 12 fieldstone sections of plants (identified by informational plaques), park benches and stone pathways.

The Boys and Girls Club, local Boy and Girl Scout troops, Master Gardeners and Yankton 4H Clovers have also offered to help with the project.

"What's nice about this garden is that it provides an educational opportunity, so people can learn about what plants grow naturally in this area," said Julie Perakslis, the executive director of KYB. "It will also be nice for people taking a walk or looking for a place to read a book. It will give

 • The anthrax situation has grown worse throughout this section of the state, according to Dr. M. M. Davis, veterinarian with the bureau of animal husbandry, who stated this morning that there are 36 herds in Bon Homme county affected at the present time.
 • The state supreme court ruled Thursday afternoon that South Dakota counties can make supplemental budgets not in excess of constitutional debt limitations to provide sufficient revenue to carry on indispensable functions of government and poor relief when tax revenues are insufficient for these purposes.

50 YEARS AGO

Monday, July 30, 1962
 • Paul Sanderson, a 20-year old youth from Worthington, Minnesota is going to be a physician. And if his golf game is any indication, he's going to be a success in the medical profession also. Because yesterday on the Yankton Hillcrest Golf and Country Club course, Sanderson, a junior college student demonstrated a cool, calm, methodical golf technique to score a pair of sub-par 34's on the final 18 holes of championship action and successfully defended his Wheeler Day golf crown with 144 strokes, just one stroke under Dr. John Evans, Vermillion who carded 145.
 • Five persons escaped serious injury when a Piper Cub four-place single engine plane recently purchased by Norman Popma, 33, Scotland, crashed at about 3 p.m. Sunday on takeoff from an alfalfa field at the Simon Chance farm one-half mile north of Scotland.

25 YEARS AGO

Thursday, July 30, 1987
 • The manufacturers of a Peanuts calendar have shortened the dog days of summer by one. Hallmark Cards omitted July 28 from the 1987 calendar, distributed nationwide at supermarkets and discount outlets under the brand name Ambassador.
 • Yankton-Vermillion Swim Team members have qualified for the South Dakota A or B Swim Meet, which will be held in Sioux Falls this weekend. The qualifiers include: Kara Cody, Heidi Hansen, Kelly Heidecker, Elizabeth Allen, Katie Campbell, Matt Antonen, Sara Ruffcorn, Lisa Ryken, Susan Johnson, Thad Johnson, Pete Juffer, Butch Johnson, David Brady, Dee Dee Budig, Ben Isburg, Sheryl Quackenbush, Jana Voracek and Ed Quackenbush.

Thank You

I want to thank all my family and friends for the wonderful cards and phone calls I received on my 75th birthday. All the thoughtful words and kindness touched my heart deeply. Thank you and God bless you all!
