Vikes Suspend Priefer For 3 Games

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The Minnesota Vikings will suspend special teams coordinator Mike Priefer without pay for three games this season and donate $100,000 to gay, lesbian, bisexual and transgender rights groups, in response to former punter Chris Kluwe's allegations of anti-gay remarks made by Priefer.

The Vikings released Friday a summary of the investigation by independent lawyers that was initiated in January, when Kluwe first accused Priefer and other Vikings officials of punishing him for his outspoken support of gav marriage. Kluwe was let go before the 2013 season, which he contended was because of his views.

The Vikings said Priefer's ban could be reduced to two games at their discretion if he attends individualized sensitivity training.

Kluwe said Fridav he still intends to sue the team for discrimination.

used was the NFC championship game when San Francisco linebacker NaVorro Bowman stripped the ball from a Seattle receiver and clearly cradled the ball on the ground inside the 49ers 5yard line. But officials didn't see that before the ball wound up in a pileup and Seattle came out of that with the ball.

Tampa Bay Trips Twins 6-2

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Ben Zobrist homered and Evan Longoria had three RBIs to lead the Tampa Bay Rays to a 6-2 win over the Minnesota Twins on Friday night.

Alex Cobb (5-6) allowed two runs in 52-3 innings and Matt Joyce added an RBI single as the Rays continue to play themselves back into contention.

Trevor Plouffe homered for the Twins, a two-run shot in the third highlighted by a fan leaning over the railing in left-center and making a sno-cone catch before the ball landed in a flower bed.

Tampa Bay took a 3-0 lead in the third on Longoria's basesloaded double that soared just beyond the reach of right-fielder Oswaldo Arcia.
