

New At The Library

Here's what's new at the Yankton Community Library this week:

ADULT BOOKS

- "The Bone Yard" by Jefferson Bass; Fiction
- "Born to Die" by Lisa Jackson; Fiction
- "Espresso Tales" by Alexander McCall Smith; Fiction
- "Learning" by Karen Kingsbury; Fiction
- "Sisterhood Everlasting" by Ann Brashares; Fiction
- "Bad Dog (A Love Story)" by Martin Kihn; Nonfiction
- "Handmade Weddings" by Laura Maffeo & Colleen Mullaney; Nonfiction
- "Rawhide Down" by Del Quinten Wilbur; Nonfiction
- "The Social Animal" by David Brooks; Nonfiction
- "Week-by-Week Vegetable Gardener's Handbook" by Ron & Jennifer Kujawski
- "Smokin' Seventeen" by Janet Evanovich; Fiction

ADULT AUDIOBOOKS

- "Hit List" by Laurel K. Hamilton; Fiction

DVDS FOR ADULTS

- "The Adjustment Bureau"
- "Diary of a Wimpy Kid: Rodrick Rules"
- "True Grit"

JUNIOR BOOKS

- "Dork Diaries #3" by Renee Russell; Fiction

CHILDREN'S BOOKS

- "Farmyard Beat" by Lindsay Craig; Fiction
- "My Sister Is a T-Rex!" by Paul Orshoski; Fiction
- "Owl Hoot" by Paul Friester & Philippe Goosens

THE BOOKWORM

'Tuesday': A Soldier And His Dog

"Until Tuesday" by Fmr. Capt. Luis Carlos Montalván, with Bret Witter. © 2011, Hyperion; 252 pages

BY TERRI SCHLICHENMEYER

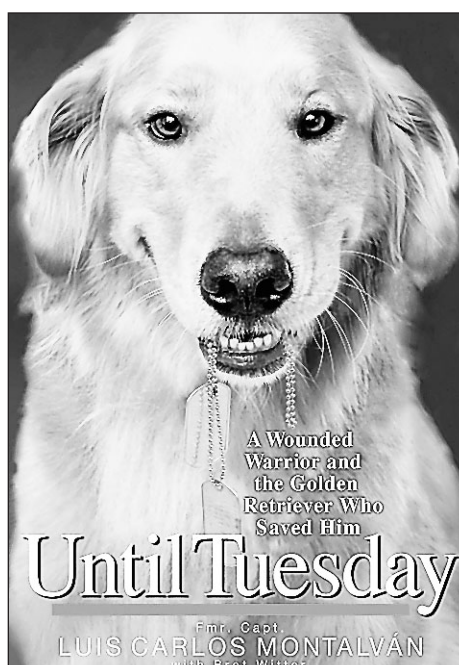

Keys? Check. You wouldn't think to leave the house without them. Your wallet is always along, too, as are several other necessities, without which you'd feel almost naked. You grab these things on your way out the door, patting your pockets. It's automatic.

Author and Former Captain Luis Carlos Montalván never leaves his apartment, either, without something very special. In the new book "Until Tuesday" (with Bret Witter), they explain ...

Growing up as a Cuban American, Luis Carlos Montalván says that his mother taught him manners, his papá taught him "to be tough and never quit" and both instilled a good work ethic in their son. They were, however, against Montalván's decision to join the Army.

Montalván says he was mostly just "an enlisted grunt" but in September 2001, following the attack on the Pentagon, he begged to go overseas. He was sent to Al-Waleed, the largest border crossing between Syria and Iraq, a place that "was like America's Wild West out there."

But just months after he arrived, Montalván was attacked by a driver-possible-smuggler and was badly injured: cracked vertebrae, bruises, cuts, and a traumatic brain injury. The medical team wanted him sent to Baghdad, but Montalván resisted. He returned to Al-Waleed and later re-upped for a second tour of duty.

When that tour was over, Montalván was "ready to leave." He'd seen enough, had lost enough friends. He landed in a tiny Brooklyn apartment, suffering from migraines, PTSD, agoraphobia, and injuries both physical and emotional.

Then someone sent him an email about service dogs available to war veterans. Montalván had a dog growing up, and it was his best playmate. He remembered how he loved dogs, and this seemed to be the life-line he needed. He applied and a few months later, he met Tuesday.

With a reddish-brown coat, a fanned tail, wiggly eyebrows, and an expressive face, Tuesday was beautiful but he didn't appear to be paying attention to his job. Still, Montalván knew on his second day in training that this was his dog. He knew Tuesday could help him heal.

What he didn't know was that the healing would come on both ends of the leash ...

Never judge a book by its cover. "Until Tuesday" is much more than the goofy Golden grin you see on the book jacket. Author and former Captain Luis Carlos Montalván (with Bret Witter) writes of the horrors of war from a soldier's viewpoint and war's aftermath from a survivor's viewpoint. He has a few choice words about his commanders in chief and our involvement in Iraq, and he becomes an activist before our eyes when people deny Tuesday entry to everyday places.

But where Montalván soars is in writing about his dog. His puppy love in the purest sense, and for dog lovers, it's as delightful as that grin on the cover of this book.

If a happy ending is what you want for your summertime reading, this is the thing to fetch. Grab "Until Tuesday" and you won't want to go anywhere without it.

'This Precious Life' To Be Featured At G.A.R.

The exhibit entitled "This Precious Life" featuring artist Marie Tyburec of Burke, is now featured at the G.A.R. Hall; Gallery in Yankton. Tyburec's work is a retrospect of her childhood and life in South Dakota. Viewers visiting the gallery during this exhibit are in for a treat with the visually engaging and personal history of this South Dakota artist.

The show runs through July 19. A reception and gallery talk will be held at 5-7 p.m. Friday, July 1.

The G.A.R. Hall Art Gallery and Yankton Area Arts are located at 508 Douglas. The gallery is open to the public free of charge from 1-5 p.m. weekdays and from 1-3 p.m. on Saturdays. For more information call 665-9745, email Pam@YanktonAreaArts.org or see www.YanktonAreaArts.org.

Eagle Eye Ride Set For Yankton June 25

The fourth annual "Eagle Eye Ride" will be held Saturday, June 25, in Yankton.

Registration begins at noon at the Walnut Bar in Yankton and four other stops.

The poker run invites all bikes, cars and trucks. There is an entry fee for 2 payouts, along with 50-50 drawing, door prizes and auction for big ticket items and good fun entertainment.

All proceeds donated locally in memory of Mary (Carda) Simek.

'Mighty Mo' Photo Show Entries Sought

Yankton Area Arts has announced the theme for the 2011 Mighty Mo Photo Show. This year's theme is "Mighty Mo River Town Tour."

The Mighty Mo Photo Show is an area photographic competition designed to compliment Yankton's annual Riverboat Days celebration and to encourage and recognize the talents of area photographers. You are invited to participate.

The exhibit will run from July 22-Aug. 30.

Eligibility and requirements include:

- Open to all photographers living in South Dakota, Iowa or Nebraska;

- All photographic media, techniques and styles accepted;
- Entries must relate to the exhibition theme: Mighty Mo River Town Tour;
- All entries must be framed, wired for hanging and labeled with the artist's name, address, title of work and sale price;
- Artists may enter up to four photographs in the competition;
- Accepted works will not be withdrawn from the exhibition before the show ends.

For further details, go to www.YanktonAreaArts.org or call Yankton Area Arts at 605-665-9754.

The G.A.R. Hall Art Gallery and Yankton Area Arts are located at 508 Douglas. The gallery is open to the public free of charge from 1-5 p.m. weekdays and from 1-3 p.m. on Saturdays. For more information call 665-9745, email Pam@YanktonAreaArts.org or see www.YanktonAreaArts.org.

Rupp Family Benefit Planned For June 30

VOLIN — A benefit event for the Rupp family of Volin will be held Thursday, June 30, at the Eagles Club in Vermillion.

In the early morning hours of June 12, a fire broke out in the home of Marc and Deonna Rupp in Volin. The family was away on a camping trip. The fire started in the master bedroom and destroyed the entire house and all of its contents. Unfortunately the family was without any type of insurance. They have four boys — ages 17, 15, 8 and 6. The only thing they have left is what they had in their camper.

The June 30 fundraiser will be a pasta feed running from 5-8 p.m. Also, an account has been set up at CorTrust Bank under the Rupp family.

For more information, contact Darci Johnsen at 605-214-1008 or sdjohnsen6@gmail.com.

Spring Photos 2011

TOP RIGHT: This musician's attention to the conductor is reflected in his horn during the intercollegiate concert held in Yankton in March as part of the South Dakota All-State Band event. (Hertz) TOP LEFT: Volunteers turned out in force on Memorial Day to help in sandbagging duties at the Yankton County Highway Shop. (Hertz) BOTTOM RIGHT: A bugler plays "Taps" during the Memorial Day program at Yankton's Memorial Park in May. (Hertz) BOTTOM LEFT: Reality TV star Holly Hoffman of Eureka discusses her experiences on the show "Survivor: Nicaragua" during the Press & Dakotan's "Celebrate Women" event in April. (Hertz)

Dynamite Duo And The Sparklers To Perform July 3

NORFOLK, Neb. — The public is invited to celebrate the Fourth with Dynamite Duo and The Sparklers, either as a spectator or a performer. The free-admission concerts will take place at 7 p.m. Sunday, July 3, and 2 p.m. Monday, July 4, at First Presbyterian Church, 104 S. 10th Street, Norfolk.

Individuals with musical or performing talent who are interested in volunteering with the group are asked to contact Carla Post, concert manager, at 402-916-9118 or carlasue97@yahoo.com; or may simply attend the first rehearsal at 7 p.m. Monday, June 7, at First Presbyterian Church.

Dynamite Duo and The Sparklers is a community-service group comprised of performers of all ages from northeast Nebraska. All members of the group perform on a volunteer basis.

The concerts will feature patriotic, sacred, Broadway and golden oldies music performed by local musicians on pipe organ, grand piano, band and stringed instruments. Other highlights include accordion, harp and vocal solos, costumed characters, dramatic readings, sing-along numbers, youth performers and a magnificently decorated church sanctuary.

The concert is free, and all are welcome.

Introducing...

Autumn Winds Comfort Care

What is Hospice?

Hospice is a special kind of care designed to provide support for people in the final phase of terminal illness. Hospice is a steadily growing concept of humane and compassionate care that can be implemented in a variety of settings such as patient homes, hospitals and long-term care facilities. Hospice care seeks to enable patients to carry on an alert, pain free life and to manage other symptoms, so that their last days may be spent with dignity and quality, at home or in a home-like setting.

Hands Comforting Hearts and Minds

Autumn Winds Comfort Care Staff:
Sitting: Lars Aanning, MD, Medical Director, Colette Broekemeier, RN, Administrator/Director of Clinical Services, Keryl Brady, MSW, Clinical Social Worker, Standing: Amy Brock, BSW, MBA, Volunteer Coordinator, Lethia Marienau, Corporate Compliance Officer, Steve VandeKop, Owner, Carol VandeKop, Owner, Betsy Hunhoff, Bereavement Coordinator.

Autumn Winds Comfort Care Hospice Services

- Physician and Nursing Staff
- Social Worker • Spiritual and Bereavement Counseling
- Home Health Aides • Homemaker
- Physical, Occupational & Speech Therapy
- Dietary Counseling
- Volunteers

For more information call
Colette Broekemeier 689-0382

Autumn Winds Comfort Care

Yankton, SD