Seventh Annual Ag Gala Set For June 19

The Yankton Area Chamber of Commerce Agri-Business Committee announces the seventh annual Ag Gala to be held Tuesday, June 19, at the Riverfront Event Center, 121 W. Third St. in downtown Yankton. The Ag Gala has become the signature event in Yankton to promote and recognize the agricultural industry, area ag producers and their importance to our economy.

Beginning at 5:30 p.m. guests will be able to sample wines from Nissen Winery, Hartington, Neb. and White Headed Robin, Viborg. During this time, vendors will have booths showcasing their products, services and relationships with the Ag community. At 6:45 p.m. the social hour will be followed by dinner with The South Dakota Cattlemen's Association as the major sponsor with beef sirloin being the featured entrée.

The program will begin at 7:30 p.m. with Lt. Gov. Matt Michels as the Master of Ceremonies. The Promoting Agricultural Youth (PAY) Scholarship recipients will be announced and recognized for their achievement. The P.A.Y. Scholarship Endowment was created to financially assist a high school senior in the Yankton area that wanted to pursue post-secondary education in the related fields of agriculture. Due to the success of the Ag Gala P.A.Y. auction over the past several years, two $1,000 scholarships will be awarded this year.

A live auction by auctioneer Greg Ryken of Yankton Livestock Auction Market will follow these awards. The auction consists of donated items to help continue to secure funds for the P.A.Y. program. Auction items are being donated by the following individuals and businesses: Dakota Aerials, Elizabeth Allemand, Ray Epp, Freeburg Hay Co., Frontier Mills, Inc., Gerstner Oil Co., Hebda Family Produce & Prairie Gardens, Heine Farms Feed-yard (Ron and Steve Heine), Jim River Fencing, Mead Lumber, Jim Petrik, Pioneer, ProBuild, Jolene Steffen, Tractor Supply Company, Valley Ag and Yankton Nurseries.

The Agri-Business Committee will honor the 2012 Farm Family of the Year at the gala. The selection of the Farm Family is based on the following criteria:

- Families must be active in agricultural production of livestock and/or crop and is their main source of income.
- They must show community involvement whether through civic organizations, school, sports or church.
- They must be involved in agricultural industry organizations whether it is local, state and/or federal plus the overall farm family image, farming history and unique or special production is taken into consideration.

This year's keynote speaker is Bruce Vincent.

Ag Gala tickets can be purchased until June 8 for $40 each. For tickets and more information, visit www.yanktonsd.com/aggala or contact the Yankton Chamber at (605) 665-3636.

Young Eagles Event Scheduled For Saturday

A Young Eagles event will be held at the Chan Gurney Airport terminal building on Saturday, June 9, running from 9 a.m.-noon. The Yankton Chapter 1029 of the Experimental Aircraft Association (EAA) and the Yankton Regional Aviation Association are holding the 20th annual event.

The Young Eagles Program of the EAA has the goal of giving 100,000 kids ages 8-17 a free airplane ride in 2012. The EAA achieved their previous goal of flying 1 million kids by December 17, 2003, which was the 100th anniversary of powered flight first accomplished by the Wright Brothers. The current total is 1.6 million Young Eagles.

The YRAA has flown more than 2,300 kids in Young Eagle events at local airports including Yankton, Bloomfield, Gregory, Hartington and Vermillion during the past 19 years. A parent or guardian must sign a registration form that will be available at the registration desk in the airport terminal.

Young Eagles receive a flight certificate, free web-based ground school training (ages 13-17 years old), and their name is placed in the world's largest logbook at www.young eagles.org.

For more information, contact Steve Hamilton at 605-665-8448.

S.D. Highway Patrol Taking Trooper Applications

PIERRE — The South Dakota Highway Patrol is currently accepting applications for the position of State Trooper.

Within the next year, the Highway Patrol will have several trooper positions open. The hiring process is starting now because the training for troopers is comprehensive and takes several months, officials with the Highway Patrol say.

"The standards are demanding and the training is rigorous for those who wish to become Highway Patrol troopers," said Col. Craig Price, superintendent of the Patrol. "Few careers offer the satisfaction that comes from protecting and serving the people of South Dakota and the motorists who travel South Dakota's highways. It's a great opportunity for a person of integrity, honor and high moral character with a desire to serve your fellow citizens."

Successful applicants go through 24 weeks of training at the State Law Enforcement Academy in Pierre. After those 24 weeks are completed, recruits do an additional 10-12 weeks of field training before taking on their own duty stations across the state. Applicants who already are certified officers in South Dakota are required to take 11 weeks of training at the Academy, rather than the entire 24 weeks.

After completion of academy and field training, troopers will be assigned to duty stations in areas of South Dakota determined by staffing needs of the Highway Patrol.

To become a trooper, applicants must be a U.S. citizen, be at least 21 years old and possess or be able to possess a South Dakota driver's license. The application period is open through June 20. For information on how to apply, visit the Bureau of Personnel website at: <http://bop.sd.gov/workforus>.

This is the link to the required documents an applicant must submit: <http://bop.sd.gov/workforus/law-criminal/highwaypatrol/default.aspx>

If you have questions, you may contact the Highway Patrol on Facebook or Twitter or call Highway Patrol Lt. Doug Coughlin at 773-3105.
