DAILY DOSE

Daily opinions from the P&D Sports Staff on local and national high school, college and professional sports.

As I was leaving the field after shooting the Yankton-Irene amateur baseball game Sunday night, Yankton coach Brady Muth, who was in attendance, shouted out to me, "You're going to be a trend setter with that hat." I will admit it: as I left my car to get ready to shoot the game, I skipped over my UCLA and Mount Marty hats to put on my Cincinnati Reds hat. And it had nothing to do with the face that the Reds are playing well. It did, however, have everything to do with the fact that my favorite baseball team chose a Yankton native, South Dakota State pitcher Layne Somsen, in the Major League Baseball Draft on Saturday afternoon. Having watched Somsen grow up on the baseball field — and in other Yankton sporting venues — I couldn't have been happier to see him go to the Reds in the 22nd round. And those who know me weren't surprised that I was happy, either. My assistant, Jeremy Hoeck, in reporting the news added, "Somewhere James is smiling."

Plenty still stands between Saturday's draft and Somsen standing on the mound at Great American Ballpark (the Reds' home field). According to an article on BleacherReport.com, only 7 percent of players drafted after the 20th round will ever wear a Major League uniform. That road will begin in Goodyear, Ariz., with the Reds' rookie league affiliate once Somsen signs a contract.

Hopefully we'll get to see Somsen in a Reds uniform — or any other MLB uniform, for that matter. Even if it never happens, Somsen's comeback from an injury that cost him two seasons has been a story worth telling. And maybe there will be more than two people wearing Reds hats around Yankton.

South Dakota's Glisar Finishes 6th At NCAA Meet

EUGENE, Ore. — South Dakota junior Megan Glisar became the third Coyote to earn first-team All-American honors at the NCAA Outdoor Track and Field Championships this season, placing sixth in the women's high jump on Saturday.

Glisar tied her season-best height and her USD outdoor record with a mark of 6 feet, 0 inches. The junior added three points to USD's team score and joins women's pole vaulters Bethany Buell and Emily Grove as USD's First-Team All-America honorees this season.

Arizona's Brigetta Barrett won the event with a height of 6-4 3/4.

In the final team standings, the South Dakota women tied Michigan State for 18th with 15 points and finished 16 spots better than last year. The Coyotes were the fourth-best school outside a non-BCS conference, and beat major conference schools such as UCLA (20th), Oklahoma (T-21st), USC (T-21st), and Auburn (T-23rd).

Augustana's Milbrath Taken By Cleveland In 35th Round

SIoux FALLS — Augustana sophomore Jordan Milbrath was selected by the Cleveland Indians with the 1,041st pick of the 35th round of the Major League Baseball First-Year Player Draft on Saturday.

Milbrath was the third player with South Dakota ties taken in the draft. Rapid City native Sam Wolff, who played at New Mexico, was taken 190th overall by the Texas Rangers. Layne Somsen, a Yankton native who played at South Dakota State, was drafted 675th overall by the Cincinnati Reds.

Milbrath, a right-handed pitcher from Springfield, Minn., is the second Viking to be drafted in as many years. Derek Hansen was taken in the 25th round by the Oakland Athletics last year. Milbrath is the sixth player from Augustana to be selected in the MLB draft.

Milbrath posted a 7-2 record in 2013 for the Vikings, making a team-high 12 starts. The sophomore posted a 4.57 ERA in 67 innings of work while striking out a team-high 60 batters. Milbrath tossed two complete games and held opponents to a .285 batting average.

Milbrath struck out a season-high nine batters in 6 1/3 innings of work against Southwest Minnesota State on March 29 and struck out seven batters in a game on three occasions during the season.

AP: Kidd To Discuss Nets' Coaching Job

MIAMI (AP) — Jason Kidd is interested in the Brooklyn Nets' coaching position and plans to talk to the team this week, a person familiar with the situation said Sunday.

Kidd led the Nets to consecutive NBA Finals in 2002-03 as a player and is interested in replacing P.J. Carlesimo, the person told The Associated Press on condition of anonymity because the team is not discussing its search.

The recently retired point guard's interest was first reported by Yahoo Sports.

The 40-year-old Kidd ended his career last week after a season with the Knicks, his 19th in the NBA. He is second on the career list in assists and steals, and is the Nets' franchise leader in most playoff statistical categories.

Kidd, a two-time Olympic gold medalist, has long been considered one of the NBA's smartest players, and Spurs coach Gregg Popovich said he would be capable of handling the transition to coaching.
