Water Plant Bid Below Estimate

BY NATHAN JOHNSON

nathan.johnson@yankton.net

The apparent low bidder for a Yankton water plant improvement project came in well below the engineer's estimate Wednesday afternoon.

During the bid opening at City Hall, Welfl Construction of Yankton submitted a bid of $661,800. The engineer's estimate was $960,000.

"It came out good," said Kyle Goodmansson, the Yankton environmental services director.

He added that Welfl is a good contractor that the city has worked with in the past.

Four other companies submitted bids Wednesday. Industrial Process Technology of Mitchell bid $690,420; Gridor Construction of Buffalo, Minn., bid $768,500; Eriksen Construction of Blair, Neb., bid $797,450; and Gil Haugan Construction of Sioux Falls bid $844,700.

The Yankton City Commission will consider awarding the bid at its June 24 meeting.

Water Plant No. 2 will have to be shut down for several weeks during the project. Most of the equipment being replaced dates back to 1972 when the facility was built.

Work will get under way when water usage is low, since the city will be depending entirely upon Water Plant No. 1, which was built in 1929 and has the capacity to produce 3 million gallons per day.

The improvement project is part of the estimated $29 million in improvements the city is proposing to its water system in the next several years. It will be paid for out of the approximately $3 million set aside so far for those upgrades.

Leaving

"Starting on the back of a garbage truck, I didn't think I was going to stick around here," Hacecky said. "Back then, there was no two-can limit or anything like that. If it was sitting at the curb, you took it. The one benefit of being on the garbage truck back then was that you could put in a four-hour day and, if everything was done, you could go."

That was usually balanced out with days in which they had to haul garbage until 10 p.m., he added.

Hacecky, Roth and Simonsen joked that, with almost a quarter of the department's veterans leaving, snow removal in the city will be interesting to watch this winter.

"There is going to be a lot of curbbanging going on," Simonsen joked.

Hacecky added that plowing snow is not as easy as it looks.

"That's going to be the worst part for these young guys," he stated. "It's the part of the job I hated most."

The men said one of the biggest challenges in snow plowing was dealing with motorists with no patience.

"They're in a hurry, and we're in their way," Hacecky said. "They don't understand what's going on, and they don't care to learn."

Plowing typically begins at 2 a.m. and usually takes 10-11 hours.

"I'm not going to miss getting called up at one in the morning," Simonsen said.

They all recalled missing holiday events in order to remove snow from city streets.

"It will be the first time in 38 years that I'll be able to sit and watch it snow," Hacecky said of his retirement. "I used to like snow until I had to go out and push it all the time."

Haberman acknowledged that there will be inexperienced workers manning the plows this winter.

"We'll take some steps to prepare them," he said. "We've got some veterans here yet who can give a lot of good direction."

The three men aren't worried about getting bored in retirement. Hacecky has plans to travel to Yellowstone National Park, Roth has an old car he is renovating and Simonsen has some fishing trips scheduled.

As they leave the department, the men offered their respects to their co-workers and said they hope the public does the same.

"The street department puts up signs, fixes catch basins, fixes curb lines, fixes streets, hauls garbage — we do all of that," Hacecky said. "Sometimes people seem to forget all the things we do."

Parkston Farmer Awarded $1M In Fraud Case

OLIVET (AP) — A Parkston farmer has been awarded more than $1 million against a former Watertown cattle seller for misrepresenting the origin of a shipment of cattle to his farm.

A Hutchinson County jury awarded farmer Curtis Huether $100,000 in damages and $1 million in punitive damages against David Bisson.

Huether accused Bisson of misrepresenting the origin of a shipment of cattle to his farm in 2008, which resulted in Huether's cattle being quarantined for about eight months.

A call to a phone listing for Bisson rang unanswered.

The jury also found that an Iowa trucking company committed civil conspiracy in the case.
