USD's Seekamp Named To Emerging Australian National Team

VERMILLION — South Dakota guard Nicole Seekamp has been named to the Jayco Emerging Australian Opals team that will compete in the Four Nations Tournament in China on June 15-27.

Seekamp was one of three NCAA players to make the squad, which is a developmental team for the Australian National Team. The Opals will face the Chinese National "B" Team, Hungary's World University Games Team, and the NetScouts Basketball USA All-Stars in the tournament. The team will play a round-robin schedule in three cities for a total of

Tappers To Play Sioux Falls Tonight

Due to a scheduling issue for the Avon Bards, today's (Thursday) South Central League amateur baseball matchup between Yankton and Avon has been postponed. No makeup date has been set. Yankton will still play at home today, facing the Sioux Falls Flying Squirrels in a 7:30 p.m. contest at Riverside Field

SDSU Recruiting Class Ranked Sixth

BROOKINGS — The South Dakota State wrestling recruiting class for the 2013-14 season is ranked No. 6 by Amateur Wrestling News (AWN). AWN rankings incorporate many factors, including: rankings, needs and other intangibles. One of the top criteria in developing a strong recruiting class is addressing a program's needs.

Head coach Chris Bono and the Jackrabbit wrestling coaching staff added 13 incoming student-athletes to the roster, as well as one on-cam-

nas, Matthew Seabold, Brandon Brunner, Chaas Delgado, Hank Goettl Coltan I aganiere. Kyle Leet. Alex Macki. Austin Oyen, Jake Turk and Kyle White, Alex Kocer joined the team midway through the season.

The recruiting class was named No. 6 in the fall and The Open Mat, as well, but the new rankings are updated following the spring recruiting period. SDSU added five recruits in the spring. In addition to the AWN ranking, the class was ranked No. 16 by Division 1 College Wrestling earlier this spring.

The complete release is available on AWN.TheOpenMat.com, along with all 25 ranked programs. Full breakdown of the top 10 is available for AWN Plus Members and Digital Subscribers.

Stadium Officials Warn Fans To Stay Off CWS Field

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — Channeling his best Clint Eastwood, the head of the agency that operates the College World Series stadium issued a warning Wednesday to fans tempted to dash onto the field during play: "Get off my lawn."

Roger Dixon, president of the Metropolitan Entertainment and Convention Authority, said security personnel have made it a priority this year to keep fans from disrupting games at TD Ameritrade Park

"While we understand this may be viewed as just having fun, we want guests to understand that it is a safety and security issue and fans on the field cannot be tolerated." Dixon said.

'I just think they're kids who get hopped up," Dixon said. They're out here tweeting back and forth, talking about it, egging each other on. So we will start watching that now and when we see something like that building up, you'll probably see a bigger presence of security out there.'

NCAA vice president of championships and alliances Dennis Poppe said fans who try to draw attention to themselves by running onto the field are spoiling what is a once-in-a-lifetime experience for many players. Poppe said he hopes the warnings dissuade potential

Baker's roster for the 2013-14 is starting to fall into place, as well. He said he currently has 15 players (8 returners, 7 newcomers) and would like to eventually reach 20 — he has some offers still on the table to recruits.
