

Shorma Appointed To Advisory Board

PIERRE — Bill Shorma, president of Rush-Co Industries in Springfield, has been named to the Manufacturing Extension Partnership (MEP) Advisory Board of the National Institute of Standards and Technology (NIST). Shorma began his three-year term in May.

"Bill Shorma will be a terrific asset to the NIST MEP Advisory Board," said Pat Costello, Commissioner, Governor's Office of Economic Development (GOED). "His knowledge of our state's manufacturing industry coupled with his broad policy experience ensures South Dakota's voice will be heard on a national level."

South Dakota's Manufacturing & Technology Solutions (MTS) Program is the MEP affiliate for South Dakota and is in partnership with the GOED, and is hosted by the University of South Dakota and the South Dakota Small Business Development Center. MTS provides products, services and assistance dedicated to the productivity, growth and global competitiveness of South Dakota's manufacturers. And according to Wes Kelly, director of MTS, the program works with more than 150 manufacturers a year statewide and those companies range in size, anywhere from five to 500 employees.

"South Dakota's manufacturing industry continues to grow and as that's happening, it's important we have strong representation on a national board," Kelly said. "I have every faith in Bill that he'll be South Dakota's voice when it comes to promoting our manufacturing industry. He's been in the industry for a long time. He's passionate and well connected. Bill will be a great representative for South Dakota."

"It's an honor to be called to serve on a national board of this caliber," Shorma said. "I've been in manufacturing my whole life; it's always been a passion of mine, so I look forward to serving as a voice for South Dakota manufacturers. My goal is to help NIST/MEP provide them the necessary training and tools that gives them the same skills as the larger manufacturers in order to better compete worldwide. South Dakota is a great place to do business and I'm eager to share that with NIST/MEP and MTS Program clients."

The NIST MEP Advisory Board was created to provide guidance and advice on the MEP program from the perspective of industrial extension customers and providers who have a vision of industrial extension with a national scope.

Read-A-Thon To Begin June 15

How many chances does a student in Kindergarten through fifth grade get to earn a $50 prize? That is what the Yankton Area Literacy Council is offering as the first prize in the Read-A-Thon which runs from June 15-28. Not just one $50 prize, but four of them! Four $25 second prizes will also be awarded.

How do children in Kindergarten through fifth grade earn a prize? Two ways: by logging the minutes read from June 15 through the 28 and by getting pledges for their reading. Those pledges need to be collected by June 30 and turned in by Tuesday, July 2 at the Yankton Area Literacy Council office.

There is a $50 prize for Kindergarten through second graders for the most minutes read and another $50 prize for the most pledges turned in by July 2. There is a second prize of $25 in each of those categories. The same prizes are available for third through fifth grades. The prizes will be awarded on Sunday, July 7.

Just like the summer reading program at the library, an older sibling can read to his younger sibling and both receive points for reading a book. For example, a fourth grade girl likes to read to her little brother who is in Kindergarten. They both will receive points for the minutes read. Also, there is no need to choose between the programs, minutes read June 15-28 for the YALC prizes also count for the summer reading program at the library.

Packets may be picked up at the Yankton Community Library until Thursday, June 12, at 5 p.m., or at the YALC office at 610 West 23rd Street, Suite 11 until Wednesday, July 11, at noon.

This summer fundraiser is being held to help support the YALC's efforts to provide tutoring to individuals who struggle with reading and math. Anyone with questions about this program can call Bev Calvert at (605) 665-3048.

Family Visitation Center Bridges Gaps

BY KAYLA CONNELLY

Family Visitation Center

As parents, teachers, advocates, and a community as a whole, the work of protecting our children from abuse and violence stands among our greatest responsibilities. A healthy relationship between a parent and child creates a strong foundation in a child's life that will influence their futures in the most profound ways. Sadly, child abuse and domestic violence chip away at this foundation. Too often relationships are strained, promises are broken, and trust is lost within a parent and child relationship after any type of abuse. The Yankton Family Visitation Center (FVC) strives to provide a place for parents and children to rebuild healthy relationships in a safe and neutral environment while keeping children safe.

The Yankton FVC is a United Way & Volunteer Services of Greater Yankton partner agency that provides two services to clients in the area: supervised visitation and the safe exchange of a child. Supervised visitation provides non-custodial parents access to their children in a safe and supervised environment where there's been documented or suspected instances of domestic abuse, child abuse, or conflict involving visitation. Supervised visitation helps protect children from potentially dangerous circumstances and provides the noncustodial parent and child a safe place to nurture and repair the parent-child relationship.

The safe exchange service provides high-conflict parents a neutral place for the safe exchange of a child in order to have no contact between one another. To ensure the child is not put in a dangerous or unhealthy situation, a FVC employee will walk the child from the custodial to noncustodial parent, and vice versa. Safe exchanges help to protect children from potentially dangerous circumstances when there's a history of domestic abuse or conflict involving visitation.

The Yankton FVC has grown tremendously over the last several years in large part to the support of United Way. Through its partnership, the Yankton FVC is able to provide scholarships to low income families to help pay costs associated with supervised visits or safe exchanges. Currently there are 58 children and 90 adults using the Yankton FVC, and United Way helps provide scholarships for ninety percent of these clients. Also due to the support of United Way, the Yankton FVC was able to provide services to over 300 parents and children last year.

In circumstances of child abuse or domestic violence, family relationships must be given time to heal; time to rebuild and strengthen while regaining trust and respect of one another. At the Yankton FVC, we work to provide a safe place for this process understanding how significant a parental relationship is to a child.
