

Session On Jesus And Buddah Set

The public is invited to take part in this continuing series where the wisdom and the teachings of the Buddha are further explored. The next session takes place on Saturday, June 14, from 9 a.m.-noon at Christ Episcopal Church; 517 Douglas Avenue, Yankton.

The audience will listen to a video presentation given by best selling author, therapist and former Trappist monk, Dr. James Finley. He eloquently helps to illumine first two Noble Truths that were taught by the Buddha some 2,500 years ago. The First Noble Truth acknowledges the nature of suffering that all humans experience. The Second Noble Truth reveals the causes of such suffering. Employing his masterful teaching style, Finley encourages us to look deeply at these Noble Truths so that suffering may be transformed, fostering conditions conducive to happiness.

The morning will include brief meditations and opportunities for discussion.

This will be accompanied by a tenor solo by Jim Reimler.

The Rev. Molly Carlson is Senior Pastor. Services begin at 10 a.m. Valet parking available while work is being done on the alley west of the church. Everyone welcome.

Kids Talk About God

How Do You Entertain An Angel?

BY CAREY KINSOLVING AND FRIENDS
Creators Syndicate

"Make sure the house is clean and a pot of potatoes is in the oven," says Alex, 6.

I'm sure Idaho potato farmers will be glad to know that spuds are finally getting the respect they deserve. Alex, you were probably thinking of their white, flaky texture when you selected potatoes as the cuisine of choice for celestial visitors.

The Bible speaks of instances where people entertained strangers who were really angels in human form (Genesis 18, 19 & Hebrews 13:2).

When an angel comes to visit, get out those dancing shoes, says Anissa, 7: "I would dance and dance until I had no more dances to do. Then I would sing the angel's favorite song."

King David danced before the ark when it was brought into Jerusalem. His wife was embarrassed, but David didn't care because he loved the Lord.

"I would let the angel stay the night with me and let him sleep in my bed," says Erica, 9. "I would sleep on the floor. I would let him watch whatever show he would like even if I didn't like it. I would ask him, 'What is it like in heaven? Is it pretty or fun? What is God like?'"

Once I had the humbling experience of discovering that a couple had given me their beautiful master bedroom while they slept in an unfinished room on the floor. Their act of love ministered more to me than the talk I gave at their church.

If there were an etiquette book on entertaining angels, Adrienne's advice would be on page one: "If you treat everybody with kindness and hospitality, you will please God even if it is not an angel."

Advice from Jennifer, 11, would also make page one: "If someone is in need and needs help, we should help them. We need to treat people like angels like the way Jesus did."

I commend Adrienne and Jennifer for grasping the real meaning of the Bible's statement, "Do not forget to entertain strangers, for by so doing some have unwittingly entertained angels" (Hebrews 13:2). Entertain in this case means to show hospitality.

I know a Christian couple whose door is always open. Don't call ahead. Just drop in and see them. Is it any wonder that the Davis family is blessed with many friends? "A man who has friends must himself be friendly," says Proverbs 18:24.

Although few can be sure if they have ever encountered an angel, we know from the Bible that angels are watching.

Rebecca, 10, is aware of her angelic audience when she says: "I think when you sing and glorify God, the angels like to listen, too. But they love it when you tell people about Jesus."

Boy, do they love it! The Bible says, "There is joy in the presence of the angels of God over one sinner who repents" (Luke 15:10).

Angels rejoice when people (sinners) change their thinking about the way they relate to God. Don't depend on your own efforts to earn something for which you can't pay. Accept God's free gift of eternal life by believing in his Son. The Apostle Paul calls this "repentance toward God and faith toward our Lord Jesus Christ" (Acts 20:21).

Think about this: Every Christian can serve as a hospitality minister. Memorize this truth: Hebrews 13:2 previously quoted.

Ask this question: How would your world change if you treated everyone like they were messengers from heaven?

Shroud Of Turin Exhibit Set For Menominee

OMAHA, Neb. — In celebration of its 15th anniversary, Spirit Catholic Radio is bringing a traveling exhibit, titled "The Man of the Shroud," to nine different cities across Nebraska, including Menominee, during June and July.

The free exhibit will be on display July 15-20 at St. Boniface Parish in Menominee. For times, visit spiritcatholicradio.com.

The Shroud of Turin has long been venerated by the faithful and is believe by many to be the burial cloth of Jesus of Nazareth.

The exhibit will be on display at various parishes and Catholic high schools in cooperation with local Knights of Columbus councils.

The traveling exhibit, developed by the late Msgr. Giulio Ricci, president of the Roman Center for the Study of the Holy Shroud at the Vatican, includes as the centerpiece a full-length photographic image of the Shroud made by the Eastman Kodak Co.

In addition, the exhibit contains a nearly life-size crucified corpus showing the wounds of Christ corresponding to the Passion narrative in the Gospel accounts and the wounds shown on the Shroud. It also contains 92 panels detailing the history and science of the Shroud.

"The Shroud was chosen to coincide with our 15th anniversary theme, 'Encounter Jesus,'" said Jim Carroll, executive director of Spirit Catholic Radio. "The Shroud brings the person of Jesus to something we can experience with our senses. My hope is that Jesus as a real person is something that can be carried with people after they view the exhibit. This is physical evidence that Jesus was a real person, and that he suffered and died, but of course, rose again."
