Post 12 Earns Berth In Finals

BY MICHAEL HAMMOND sports@yankton.net

The Yankton Post 12 legion team was able to defeat the Brandon Valley legion team 6-1 in the semi-final of the Lewis & Clark Wooden Bat Tournament to advance to the final on Sunday at Riverside Field in Yankton.

Yankton was able to win with a strong pitching performance by Landon Withrow, who pitched a complete game seven innings allowing just one run and four hits, allowing only two runners on base for the final three innings. Backing up Withrow with run support was two three run innings in the bottom of the fourth and fifth innings for Yankton.

'We have done a good job this weekend of staying patient and staying in ball games," Yankton coach Trev Krier said. "We have faced some good pitching which has required us to battle and grind out at bats and eventually that has paid off for us."

The bats are looking alive for Yankton, but the story has been with the pitching staff. Yankton has only used six pitchers in five games of the tournament. "That's huge," Krier said. "To be able to do that puts us in a great position where we have arms left, fresh arms left to throw in the tournament. "Also this speaks volumes for us going into the summer, we have arms to log quality innings for us and allow our defense to get some outs."
