Library Offers Digital Services

The Yankton Community Library, in partnership with RBdigital from Recorded Books, announces the launch of IndieFlix and OneClick Digital for Libraries. IndieFlix is a premier online streaming service which provides award-winning independent films, shorts and documentaries from around the world. OneClickdigital is an online service that allows patrons to check out eAudio-books and eBooks, including bestsellers, Recorded Books exclusives, classics, selections for children and young adults and much more. Patrons have unlimited access to IndieFlix which provides thousands of streaming film-festival hits, including the best of Sundance, Cannes, Tribeca and more. IndiFlix is available on Apple(r), Android(tm), and all Internet-enabled devices. Patrons can also watch films on their home televisions with their Roku devices. With OneClickdigital, patrons have free access to eAudio and eBooks at home, in the library or on the go. OneClickdigital is compatible with all popular listening devices, and mobile apps are available for the iPhone(r), Android(tm), and Kindle Fire. OneClickdigital features an easy-to-use interface with streamlined navigation, fast downloads and automatic software updates. Library Director Kathy Wibbels is excited about offering these new digital services to library patrons. "Offering these new services expands the library's ability to better serve our patrons. The new movie format offers a wide array of films that the library cannot physically offer, and the OneClickdigital collection adds new titles to our downloadable collection. See a library staff member for more information on how to access Indieflix and OneClickdigital, or go to the library's website to download helpful instruction sheets. For more information on these new services, contact the library at 668-5276 or go to library.cityofyankton.org.

This photo shows some of the damage done by a fire at a rental property in Vermillion early Saturday morning.

No Injuries In Vermillion Fire

VERMILLION — The Vermillion Rural Fire Department and Vermillion Fire EMS Department responded to a reported structure fire with an occupant on the second floor at 8 a.m. Saturday. The renter, who was the only occupant, was asleep when her dog woke her alerting her that something was wrong. When she opened her bedroom door, the room quickly filled with smoke from a fast moving fire in the living room. Following direction from a 911 dispatcher, she was able to jump from the window, saving herself and her dog. Crews arrived on scene confirming a working fire reporting heavy fire and smoke with flames coming from two windows and the roof. Two engine company crews made entry to extinguish the fire and encountered extremely high temperatures due to the interior finish of the home being mostly non-rated wood paneling. After a quick attack by fire crews, the fire was extinguished, limiting the fire damage to only 50 percent of the second floor. The occupant was evaluated by EMS and did not report any injuries. Vermillion fire investigators found there were no working smoke detectors on site. An electrical short inside the wall started the fire. Responding units included the Vermillion Rural Fire Department, Vermillion Fire EMS, Clay County Sheriff and the South Dakota Highway Patrol.
