Helen Newell, the youngest of Maude (Gano) and George Newell's six children was born on their family farm in Hutchinson County, near Scotland, SD, November 11, 1921, the last surviving member of her immediate family. Helen grew up on the farm loving the animals and making pets out of several of them. Helen's older brother, Ken, gave her the nickname "Sol" because of her sunny disposition. She attended teacher's college and then taught in rural schools for two years before being employed in the first self-service grocery store in Yankton, SD. She married Roy Jorgensen on February 6, 1943. Shortly after their marriage, Roy departed to the South Pacific, serving in the Second World War. On Christmas Eve, 1945, Helen opened the door of her apartment to find Roy standing on the step to greet her, home safely at last from his military service. Overwhelmed with joy, she introduced him to their first-child, 21 month old Bernice Ann. In the years that followed they had two more children; James Roy was born February 14, 1948, and Steven Mark followed on January 6, 1957. In 1968, Helen, Roy, and Steve moved to Vermillion, SD. Helen was a familiar face at Tom and Bud's Super Valu where she worked as a bookkeeper and cashier. Helen was instrumental in starting the Food Pantry at Trinity Lutheran Church, where she continued to volunteer for many years. Helen and Roy enjoyed many years of fellowship at Trinity and also at the Vermillion Senior Center.
