More Than $8K Raised For Contact Center And Homeless Shelter At Reza Show

Members of the Yankton Modern Woodmen of America Chapter 3893 recently helped raise money for the Contact Center and Homeless Shelter by helping sponsor the "Reza the Illusionist Show" on Feb. 25.

In addition to being a wonderfully entertaining evening for the whole family, we were able to raise more than $8,000 for the Contact Center and the Homeless Shelter. This includes $1,000 matched by the Modern Woodmen's home office through the organization's Matching Fund Program.

Thank you to all of you who attended this event.

For more information about the local chapter and how you can get involved contact Cathy Lynch-Becker at 605-665-7799.

YCTC Provides Youth With Great Opportunities

BY RYAN EICHACKER 10 years old

What the Children's theatre means to me: My name is Ryan Eichacker and I have done several plays and musicals with the Children's theatre.

I am in the next play that is "No Strings Attached." I play Pinocchio, a marionette, and a villager.

What I like about the Children's theatre Company is that you can experience having a good time. I get to meet a lot of good friends. All the kids there laugh and have fun. Allison (our director) is nice to the kids and sometimes she will give us a treat.

It is fun to be on stage and make people laugh and be happy. Allison gives a lot of different people big parts and will always give the kids a part whether big or small. When I see my name on the cast list, I am always excited.

Acting gives me self confidence that I need to be on stage and in life. It also allows me to express myself in many ways.

The parents make amazing costumes too! They make a lot of costumes.

When the set comes on the stage it looks awesome. The plays are splendid and enjoyable to go to. The kids there are very grateful to Allison for all the hard work she puts in the plays to make them fun for all the kids.

The Yankton Children's theatre is the way to go. I hope everyone comes to enjoy a play and to get involved.

The Yankton Children's Theatre Company (YCTC) Board thanks Ryan for the column he wrote above about his experience with YCTC. Ryan is one of over 300 kids who have participated in YCTC programs and productions since the children's theatre started in 2007. You may have seen Ryan in a YCTC play over the last couple of years or in the Lewis & Clark Theatre December production of "A Christmas Spectacular." You can definitely see him next weekend

You can definitely see him next weekend in a hip and fresh adaptation of Carlo Collodi's Pinocchio story entitled "No Strings Attached," playing at the Dakota Theatre and running from Thursday night, March 8th at 7:30 p.m. through the Sunday, March 18 at 2 p.m.

This musical is a fun spin on the traditional Pinocchio story with a cast of close to 60 kids! If you have been to a previous production, you know how much fun they are and how wonderful it is to see these kids (ranging in age from 4 to 18) pull-off a large production! If you've never been, please make plans to come.

The kids love having a big audience to perform to and there is no question you will enjoy the show! In addition to a great show, the American Girl® Doll company donated this year's McKenna doll for YCTC to raffleoff during the production.

Memberships for the season will be available at a reduced rate at the door or by calling Director Allison Spak at 660-6414. Also watch for coupons getting one child in free with a paid adult to come home from school with the kids this week.

"No Strings Attached" opens Yankton Children's Theatre Company's 5th season. We also have a summer drama program through the Yankton Parks & Recreation Department which will perform "The Little Mermaid," at the Summit Center Theatre in July. You will be able to sign-up for this program when the summer recreation guide comes out.

In September we have a production of "Bedbugs," and in December we're very excited to produce local author Marilyn Kratz's "A Christmas to Remember" in partnership with the Yankton Children's Choir and the Dakota Theatre.

For more information on our programs, productions and audition schedules (every child who auditions for a production is given an opportunity to participate!), or to support the Yankton Children's Theatre, please visit our website at www.yanktonchildrenstheatre.org or email us at yctc@yanktonchildrenstheatre.org. You can also contact Executive Director Allison Spak at (605) 660-6414. YCTC has and relies on multiple support and investment opportunities.

In addition to developing a passion for the theatre, our kids gain tremendous valuable skills including leadership, mentorship, teambuilding and self-esteem when they pull these productions together and execute cohesive and entertaining public performances.

These are valuable skill-sets that will serve them well in life, and as future employees and leaders in the Yankton community. For that reason, in addition to the valuable support to keep YCTC active, we are very proud of the support we received in the last year from local companies Sapa, Applied Engineering, TruXedo, WalMart and from the Otto Ullrich Foundation. We hope to see you at the show!

A BLAST OF FUN

A DINO-RIFFIC PERFORMANCE

Mrs. Wagner's Kindergarten students from Lincoln Elementary School put on a dinosaur play this week. The children did an awesome job singing and acting out their parts. We had fun making our costumes, painting the background and practicing our songs! It was great to see so many parents, grandparents, friends and neighbors come to see our performance! Kindergarten rocks!

Big Friend Little Friend had a blast of cold on an unusually warm winter day. A big thank you goes out to the Knights of Columbus for sponsoring an ice skating event for Big Friend Little Friend. The Knights of Columbus provided two hours of skating fun, hot dogs and hot chocolate. Thanks to them we were able to work on our self confidence on and off the ice while having fun with our mentors and peers.
