L&C Visitor Center Reopening March 4

The Lewis and Clark Visitor Center, operated by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers and the National Park Service will be reopening effective Monday, March 4. Hours are 8 a.m.-3 p.m. Monday through Friday. The center is located on Nebraska Highway 121 near the Gavins Point Dam.

Papal Election Presentation Offered March 4

Because of inclement weather conditions on Thursday, Feb. 21, the presentation, "How the Pope is Elected," will be offered again at 7 p.m. Monday, March 4, in the Scholastic Center, room 107, on the Mount Marty College campus in Yankton. Dr. Helen Ciernick of MMC will present a talk on the election process for the Pope. The Scholastica Center is the building that houses the college library and can be easily accessed from the west side.

Yankton Area Retired Teachers To Meet March 7

After a three-month winter hiatus, the Yankton Area Retired Teachers Association will resume regular meetings on the first Thursday of each month. President Gene Bormann and his officers invite all retired school personnel from any level of education and any geographical area to meet, eat and enjoy the company of this group. The March meeting will be held at 11:30 a.m. Thursday, March 7, at JoDean's Steak House, 2809 Broadway, in the south dining room. A brief opening will precede the meal, followed by the month's program and a business meeting. The March program presentations will be given by Bill Sohl and Bob Thuey, who will provide information on the Yankton Men's Shelter, and by Dr. Michael McVay, who will explain the importance and work of Habitat for Humanity. Business of the day will include discussion of the YARTA Scholarship to be presented to a YHS senior in the spring. If you would like to attend but need transportation, call Phyllis Christiansen at 668-0659. For further information, contact Membership Chairs Susan Buxcel at 665-2745 or Donna Fischer at 665-9252.

Red Cross Month Recognizes Everyday Heroes

March is Red Cross Month and the American Red Cross recognizes our Everyday Heroes who help their community by giving of themselves — the volunteers, instructors, class takers and financial supporters who help us assist those in need. March is also a great time to become part of the Red Cross by doing such things as developing a preparedness plan for the household or business, becoming a volunteer, giving blood, or taking a Red Cross class. The Red Cross responds to nearly 70,000 disasters a year in this country. It provides 24-hour support to members of the military, veterans and their families; collects and distributes about 40 percent of the nation's blood supply and trains more than seven million people in first aid, water safety and other life-saving skills every year. Here in the Yankton area, the Yankton Branch of the Sioux Empire Red Cross responded to 11 local emergencies affecting 19 adults and 15 children in 2012, and trained 200 people in lifesaving skills, and 25 youth in babysitting. Already this year, there have been three household fires affecting six adults and seven children. Local Red Cross officials thank those whose generosity enables them to continue their work, and encourage everyone to become an Everyday Hero during Red Cross Month by helping their neighbors. They also ask the community to plan on attending the Red Cross fundraiser March 8 at Minerva's Restaurant.

Entries Are Open For 2013 S.D. Horse Fair

SIoux FALLS — Registrations of riders with horses are being accepted for the clinics and contests at the 2013 South Dakota Horse Fair March 15-17 in the Expo Building on the W.H. Lyon Fairgrounds in Sioux Falls. Entry forms are available at www.SDHorseFair.com for the two Dana Hokana clinics, the three-day Horseman's Challenge contest and the Saturday night Ranch Rodeo. Space is limited. Those interested are encouraged to mail their entry fees quickly. If you have questions, call Brandon Kinney 605-695-0132. Many horse breeds will be on display throughout the weekend. Speakers and demonstrations at the event will educate all levels how to better enjoy and care for their horses. Visit the South Dakota Horse Fair website for schedule and family friendly admission information.

March Is Disabilities Awareness Month

PIERRE — "Look Beyond" is the theme for Intellectual and Developmental Disabilities Awareness Month 2013. The South Dakota Council on Developmental Disabilities, South Dakota Advocacy Services and the Center for Disabilities at the USD Sanford School of Medicine and other organizations celebrate Intellectual and Developmental Disabilities Awareness Month in March, and invite you to consider the true meaning of this year's theme, "Look Beyond." Statewide, and across the nation, organizations devoted to serving people with intellectual and developmental disabilities are planning special events in March to raise public awareness of the many abilities people have, regardless of disability. "Look Beyond" encourages people to understand that when people with disabilities are welcomed into local neighborhoods, workplaces, houses of worship, and schools — everyone wins. "This is a time when our organizations focus on encouraging the public to better understand the people we serve," said Arlene Poncelet, executive director for the South Dakota Council on Developmental Disabilities. During Intellectual and Developmental Disabilities Awareness Month, we encourage people to learn more about the 6,000 people in this state who have intellectual and developmental disabilities and to recognize that all of us have talents and abilities that we can offer to make this a better place to live. During March, Intellectual and Developmental Disabilities Awareness Month, get acquainted with someone who has an intellectual or developmental disability. You'll learn that everyone has something to offer and that when we are all together our communities are stronger, we accomplish more, and everyone wins.

United Way of Vermillion Wrapping Up 2013 Campaign

VERMILLION — United Way of Vermillion is almost ready to wrap up their 2013 campaign, but not without making a final push to raise the remaining $9,000 to reach the campaign goal. "We've had an incredible year, but not just raising additional dollars, but getting lots of new people involved who are just finding out about the work that United Way does in our community," said board president Dan Kenton. "Reaching $115,000 would be the icing on the cake." Meeting the campaign goal would allow United Way to fully fund awards made to 19 local programs, from the Imagination Library book program and Beyond School Adventures to Meals on Wheels and Domestic Violence Safe Options Services. John Lushbough directs the Weekend Backpack Program and the Back-to-School Backpack Program, two recipients of United Way funding. "The United Way making their goal is a big deal for us and other folks who depend on that funding. Most small nonprofits around here don't have paid staff to do fundraising, so the United Way takes some of that pressure off of us and allows us to focus on our mission."

Donations for to the 2013 campaign will be accepted until March 31. Executive Director Kelsey Collier-Wise stressed the importance of gifts of any size. "Any donation amount makes a difference. This isn't a campaign made up of high rollers — it's a lot of people, giving what they can and making life a little better for their friends and neighbors." Tax deductible donations to the United Way of Vermillion can be made at <http://unit-edwayofvermillion.org/donate/> or sent to P.O. Box 216, Vermillion, SD 57069.
