Labor Law Poster Scams Occuring

PIERRE — Attorney General Marty Jackley and the South Dakota Department of Labor and Regulation (DLR) are warning businesses to beware of poster scams from companies selling various federal agency postings.

Such companies often use scare tactics about potential fines and penalties. The solicitations have an official-looking seal to create the impression the advertisement is actually an official communication from a government entity.

"Scammers are attempting to catch businesses off-guard and profit by forcefully selling federal posters. Labor law posters that businesses are required to display can be obtained from the South Dakota Department of Labor and Regulation at no cost,' said Jackley. The DLR has labor law compliance posters available at no charge from any DLR local office. This poster includes the six federal posting requirements. Various federal agencies such as the U.S. Labor Department, OSHA and EEOC have posting requirements.

Victims of these poster scams should contact the Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division at 1-800-300-1986 with information or

Rummage Sale Donations Needed

The Habitat for Humanity Bike Team is seeking donations for its annual rummage sale. This two-day sales event will be held on March 27-28 at First United Methodist Church located at 207 W. 11th Street.

Donations will be accepted at the Church beginning March 23. Habitat will pick up donations if needed; call Tom and Jane Gilmore at (605) 665-8303 to schedule a time.

The Habitat Rummage is a two-day sales event with all proceeds benefitting Habitat for Humanity of Yankton County. The bike team hosts this annual event to help fulfill its requirement of raising at least $900 per rider to be donated to the affiliate of their choice. The current bike team members are Glen and Barb Mechtenberg, Tom and Jane Gilmore, Barb and Heidi Olson, Liza and Guy Larson, and Julie Dykstra. Last year, the bike team raised just under $25,000 for Habi-

WALL STREET RECAP

NEW YORK (AP) - Stocks and bonds rallied Wednesday after the Federal Reserve indicated that it's not in a hurry to raise interest rates. At the end of a two-day meeting, the Fed cut its forecasts for economic growth through 2017 and said that it needs to see more improvement in the job market and higher inflation before it raises rates. The Fed has kept interest rates extremely low for six years, which has helped drive stock and bond prices higher by making borrowing cheap.
