Native Homeownership Coalition Focuses On Financial Education For Native Communities

PIERRE — Thirty participants from across the state of South Dakota recently participated in a three-day intensive train-the-trainer session in Pierre focusing on financial education for Native communities.

The training was sponsored by the South Dakota Native Homeownership Coalition (Coalition), which works to increase homeownership opportunities for South Dakota's Native people to build strong and healthy communities.

Rosemarie Dillingham, Oglala Sioux Tribe Partnership for Housing, was a participant and states, "We appreciate the faith the trainers and the S.D. Native Homeownership Coalition members have in our organization's purpose; getting families into homes."

Participants representing nonprofit organizations, tribal housing entities, tribal departments, and community development financial institutions became certified to provide financial literacy training for Native community members.

The class focused on budgeting, savings, understanding credit, and planning for the future and provides best practices, and encouragement. These classes provided a critical foundation for families working to achieve homeownership. "The materials, discus-

"The materials, discussion, and experience of the trainers is not only benefitting me," stated Andres Ake Hede Najin Davis, Tenant Housing Authority, "it is benefitting my people in obtaining our ultimate goal of homeownership."

April as South Dakota's Month of the Military Child.

"April is designated across the country as the Month of the Military Child," explained Sheila Troxel Snyder, SDSU Extension Operation: Military Kids state coordinator.

Mayors across the state will be proclaiming Wednesday, April 15, as "Purple Up! For Military Kids Day!"

"On this day, we ask South Dakotans to show their support by wearing purple," Troxel Snyder said.

An easy way to thank and support our military kids for their many sacrifices while their parents are deployed is to don a 2015 Purple Up! T-shirt, available for purchase online at http://igrow.org/catalog/merchandise/.

The deadline for ordering the T-shirts is April 4. Youth and adult sizes are available.

For additional information, contact: Sheila Troxel Snyder, SDSU Extension Operation: Military Kids State coordinator, at sheila.snyder@sdstate.edu or 605-394-2236.

Meet Dogs Available At HHS April 4

Heartland Humane Society (HHS) welcomes the community to meet their dogs available for adoption on Saturday, April 4, from 10 a.m.-noon at the shelter. HHS is located at 3400 East Highway 50 in Yankton.

HHS will have different sizes, ages and breeds of dogs available for the general public to meet and possibly adopt.

"Meet and Greets allow our dogs waiting for adoption to get out into the public and make new friends. Our dogs are placed into foster-homes so this also gives the public a chance to meet them and hang out with them," says Christa Kranig, shelter coordinator at Heartland Humane Society.

Staff at HHS encourages anyone interested in adopting to fill out an application prior to the Meet and Greet. Applications must be reviewed and approved before adoption. You can pick up an application at the shelter or find one on the organization website (www.heartlandhumanesociety.net).

For more information on this event, contact Heartland Humane Society at 605-664-4244 or email hhs@midconetwork.com. You can view all animals available for adoption on the shelter's website or on Petfinder.com.

Filmmaker Michael Rossato-Bennett chronicles the astonishing experiences of individuals around the country who have been revitalized through the simple experience of listening to music. His camera reveals the uniquely human connection we find in music and how its healing power can triumph where prescription medication falls short. Rossato-Bennett visits family members who have witnessed the miraculous effects of personalized music on their loved ones, and offers illuminating interviews with experts including renowned neurologist and best-selling author Oliver Sacks ("Musicophilia: Tales of Music and the Brain") and musician Bobby McFerrin ("Don't Worry, Be Happy").
